Bishop William X. Ninde, D.D., LL.D.

Obituary read before the Troy Conference, April, 1901.

When the great and generous heart of William Xavier Ninde ceased its beating a holy life was ended, a heavenly existence was begun.

He was born in Cortlandville, N. Y., June 21, 1832, and was the son of a well-known and highly respected minister. His early life was spent and his preliminary education obtained in northern and central New York. In 1851 he entered Wesleyan University, and graduated with high honors in the class of 1855. He joined what is now the Northern New York Conference. In 1861 he was transferred to Cincinnati Conference, and was appointed pastor successively of five of the leading churches in that city, and in 1870 was transferred to Detroit Conference and appointed to the Central Church, Detroit. His talents and scholarship, together with his qualifications as a Bible student, commanded the attention of the trustees of the Garrett Biblical Institute at Evanston, Ill., and he was elected to the chair of practical theology in 1873. A year later he was elevated to the presidency of the institution. The Church in 1880 made him its representative at the Ecumenical Conference in London, and his address on that occasion upon "The Grateful Recognition of the Hand of God in the Origin and Progress of Methodism" merited and won much praise for its strength and simplicity. He was a delegate to the General Conferences of 1876 and 1884, and was chosen bishop in the latter year. His presidency of a Conference always established him in its love and regard.

He was the chaste, courteous, and Christian gentleman at all times, in all places, and those who came in contact with him in official relations, or passed within the circle of his influence, recognized his ability and piety, and had a deeper reverence for religion and a greater respect for Methodism than before meeting him. The humblest preacher could approach him with an assured welcome. He sought conscientiously to administer carefully the affairs of his high office, drew friends to himself by the attractiveness of his personality, and won recruits to the cause of his Master by the purity and genuineness of his life. He was a preacher of unusual power, possessing a commanding presence, an impressive manner, a musical voice, and a ready utterance. He held the attention and inspired the hearts of all who heard him.

Two incidents, one of which is familiar to many, may be fittingly mentioned. They illustrate his unassuming character and thoughtfulness for others. At the session of the Troy Conference in 1897, over which he presided, the roll of the superannuated ministers was called, and they were invited to speak if they so desired. A few availed themselves of this unusual privilege, among them the Rev. W. J. Sands, since deceased. He closed his speech by expressing the pleasure the presidency of the bishop had given him, and stating that he hoped to be permitted to shake his hand before the Conference adjourned. During the singing of an appropriate hymn Bishop Ninde rose from the platform, went quietly down, sat by the side of Brother Sands, putting his arm around him, took him by the hand, and spoke words of kindly greeting. By the time the singing was ended he was back again in the president's chair. This act, unostentatiously performed, melted all hearts, and will long abide in the memory of those who were present. The other was told at the funeral of the bishop by a layman who witnessed it. For its setting it had the sparsely furnished parlor in the plain Methodist parsonage of a small town in northern Michigan. The bishop had gone there to participate in the reopening service of the little village church. The most prosperous family in the place were to have entertained him, but owing to illness were unable to do so, and it fell to the preacher's lot to have him as a guest. Not many of this world's goods had come to his door; the parsonage was distant from the sources of supply; the wife, who did her own work, was much agitated at the idea of having the great man in the house, and being unable to do for him as she feared he would expect. As she came into the room to meet him the bishop comprehended her embarrassment, and taking her by the hand he said, "Let me ask that you will not allow our unlooked-for coming to distress you or disarrange the plans of the home." Stepping back and putting his hand on her husband's shoulder, he said, "For anything that is good enough for my brother is amply good enough for me." So he lived and labored, until Thursday, January 3, when those subtle ties of sympathy which unite the soul and the body were sundered, and from the activities of a busy life he entered into rest.

When the news spread that Bishop Ninde had suddenly "ceased at once to work and live" a deep sorrow settled down upon the city of Detroit, where he lived. His name was spoken with reverence in the stores and offices, on the streets and in the cars; all agreed that a good citizen and godly man had gone to receive his reward. One of the most beautiful tributes paid his memory was uttered in the cathedral by the Roman Catholic bishop of Michigan. "There is a new star in heaven to-night, and my brother rests from his labors," were the opening words of the eloquent eulogy that fell from the prelate's lips.

The funeral was held on January 7, in Central Church, Detroit. The audience room was crowded. Those who had delighted to honor him in life now sincerely mourned him in death. Nearly two hundred preachers, representing many sections and denominations, were present. Bishops Andrews, Walden, and Joyce, Dr. James H. Potts, editor of the Michigan Advocate, the presiding elder of the district, and the pastor of the church, with others, took part in the services. The pallbearers were the elderly members of the Conference; the carriers were befittingly from the ranks of the men upon whose heads the bishop had laid his hands in ordination. The grass of the summer will bloom around his grave, the snows of many winters will whiten the mound above his sacred dust, but the influences for good which he set in motion will live on, and wherever the story of Methodism is read William Xavier Ninde will not be forgotten. The Church did wisely when it called and exalted him. Most appropriately his colleagues named him the St. John of their number. We shall do well if we follow him here, that happily we may meet him yonder.

Bishop Edwin W. Parker, D.D.

Edwin W. Parker was born in St. Johnsbury, Vt., January 21, 1833, and died in Naini Tal, India, June 3, 1901. He sailed for India August 21, 1859, giving over forty years to missionary work in that country, over thirty years of which he was a presiding elder. No more effective and successful director and leader has been known in North India, to which his labors were confined. Honored and loved by preachers and people, his election and consecration as bishop by the General Conference in May of last year and his return to India in September deepened the reverence and affection of the native Church as well as of his fellow-missionary workers, and he was greeted with great joy.

He joined the Vermont Conference in 1857, and was presiding elder of Bareilly District, North India Conference, when elected bishop. He returned to India in September and soon thereafter was stricken with what proved to be fatal illness. He died on a bright afternoon, surrounded by a score or more of missionaries, men and women, some of whom had faithfully day and night assisted his wife in loving and skillful care of her husband. Bishop Warne reached Naini Tal from Manila twenty hours after his colleague's death. He led the funeral service, which was attended by all the families of the missionaries of the North India Conference and many native missionaries.

The following lines are taken from a memoir contributed to Zion's Herald by Rev. J. H. Messmore:

"Mournful representations are sometimes made of missionaries dying alone as Livingstone did in foreign lands. Bishop Parker's translation was not under such circumstances. If he had died at his father's home in St. Johnsbury, I do not think his bed would have been surrounded by such a company of brothers and sisters as those who saw him breathe his last yesterday afternoon.

"It is not easy for those unacquainted with the peculiar position which Edwin W. Parker filled for the past twenty-five or thirty years in North India to realize the character of the bereavement that has come to us. Among the missionaries, and in a still greater degree among the hundreds of native ministers in the two northern Conferences, the sense of personal loss is very great. 'My father, the chariot of Israel and the horsemen thereof,' is in the hearts of thousands. There are two kinds of men in the world—those who help, and those who do not. E. W. Parker was a man who helped; a man to whom those about him naturally looked for help. It is no exaggeration to say that hundreds of native ministers and other native Christians will mourn his removal because his helping hand did so much to make them what they are. He was bishop for one year only; and during most of that year he was fighting for his life and could do but little work. But he had been doing bishop's work long years before the General Conference made him one; and there is no doubt whatever that the disease which at last removed him from among us was directly caused by the unusually heavy work he carried during the twelve months preceding his election to the episcopacy. He was an enthroned episcopos in the hearts and minds of hundreds of native ministers, local preachers, and men of that sort. Methodism is not supposed to have popes or cardinals; but certainly for many years past Dr. Parker's voice in Conference and in committee work has been ex cathedra for the great majority of missionaries and ministers here.

He was a providential man for India; a man who built up interests; a man of strong hand and very tender heart. Among the Sikhs and Chamars of Rohilkhand he perceived the wonderful providential openings of forty years ago, and the wise and resolute manner in which he did his work among them is abundantly declared on the statistical pages of Indian Methodism.

And in all of this strong man's work, and in all his success, it was well known that he accomplished what he did because in everything he was assisted by the unique wisdom and strength of her who, after a happy married life of nearly half a century, now sits and weeps alone. He is where he has no need of our recognition or sympathy or prayers. She is with us, and I do not think that a bereaved wife has ever inherited a richer legacy of sympathy and confidence than is given and will be given by the Church in India and America to the widow of Bishop E. W. Parker.

OBITUARIES.

New York Conference.

Marquis M. Curtis, born in White Store, Chenango County, N. Y., October 12, 1824, died in Gaylordsville, Conn., November 22, 1900. He joined with the class of 1848 and superannuated in 1893. He served twenty-one different charges, upon two or three of which he was invited back for a second term. His name may be placed in the list of the ordinary brethren of the Conference, but his virtues were eminent. It is said he never lost his faith, his courage, or his temper. Unassuming, modest, retiring, his voice was seldom heard on the floor of the Conference. He cared less where he wrought than how he wrought, and in the exercise of this spirit he was always obedient to the voice of conscience, the law of the Church, and the demands of his Conference. He was a revivalist. Saving souls was the burden of his efforts. During the winter of 1854 he was stricken with fever, and for several weeks he was near the border line. His friends and physician lost all hope; but one day, arousing from a slumber which all supposed was the last sleep, he opened his eyes and calmly and assuringly said to his wife: "I am going to live. In my dream just now I looked out upon large fields of grain. I saw the waving wheat and the ripening corn ready for the harvest. This indicates that the Master has work for me yet." From that time his recovery was rapid. When sufficiently strong he started revival meetings which continued for eleven weeks, and a large number were added to the Church. He was powerfully gifted in prayer. Many were drawn to his services to hear him pray. During his sickness he was asked, "Is Christ still your support and comfort?" With a look that indicated such a question to be unnecessary he replied, "Most certainly he is; I never loved him more," and extending his emaciated hand, continued, "He is so near it seems I can almost touch him." His departure was so quiet and peaceful they did not know he had gone. The watchers stepped to the door for a breath of the pure midnight air. When they returned he did not move. They went to his bedside. He did not breathe. When death took from him all that was transitory he received the life-giving touch of the Infinite and felt upon his wasted brow the breezes of the eternal morning. In 1895 he and his wife celebrated their golden wedding at Gaylordsville; four years later she passed to immortality, and two years following they joined in spirit union. His body rests with that of wife and daughter at Modena, N. Y., in the cemetery he himself founded in 1868.

William H. Evans was born in Waterford, N. Y., April 3, 1827, and died in Fishkill, N. Y., August 31, 1900. He was converted in the winter of 1851–52, and united with the Church. Early in his Christian experience he became satisfied of his call to the work of the Christian ministry. In 1854 he joined the New York Conference. In 1856 he was ordained deacon, and elder two years later. His appointments were as follows: Lower Clove and Southfield, West Newburgh and Galeville, Second Church, Kingston; Tuckahoe, Jane Street, New York; White Plains, Pawling, Lexington Avenue, New York; Rondout, Cold Spring, Perry Street, New York; Hedding Church, Poughkeepsie; Red Hook, Ridgebury, Lakeville, Wappingers Falls, Monticello, Croton Landing, Poughquag, and Fishkill. On November 25, 1853, he was united in marriage to Elenor E. Hedges, of New York city. A son and a daughter share with the mother in her bereavement, and together mourn his departure. As a preacher he was clear and practical. He had scope of thought, and could present with much force and ability the great truths and doctrines of the Gospel. He had a correct imagination, excellent descriptive powers, and rhetoric and logic were at his command. He could interest and instruct, and when proper could by his originality entertain his hearers to their edification and profit. His success, in which hundreds and even thousands were converted, was the result of careful preparation, wise planning, and exhausting labor. He was unassuming and unobtrusive, yet remarkably cordial and social. He won the confidence and affections of all among whom he labored. To the members of his own household he was everything that is lovable and commendable. He was a pure man, a true Christian gentleman through and through. "He walked uprightly, and worked righteousness, and spake the truth in his heart." His death was sudden, but he fell at his post with his armor on. His funeral services were held at the parsonage, and his remains were laid to rest in the cemetery at Highland Mills.

Gilbert Holmes Gregory was the youngest son of Milton S. Gregory and Charlotte P. Gregory. He was born November 28, 1837, at East Plattekill, near the village of Modena, Ulster County, N. Y., and died in New York city, September 30, 1900. He was one of nine children, and his career was no surprise to those who knew his lineage—he was simply a well-grown fruit on the family tree. Both his grandfathers were devout Methodists. When he was fifteen years old, in 1852, he was converted in the little chapel, up the hill from his happy and prayerful home. In due time Amenia enrolled him, then Troy University matriculated him in 1858, and the ministry lay before him as clearly as noonday before sunrise. In 1863 he joined the New York Conference. The field of his work was quite extended, and marked by some of his peculiarities. After his first appointment he strongly preferred to remain but a single year in a place. He thought churches were entitled to better sermons than he could make without remaking the most of them. He soon consented to the second year, and in two or three cases had to stay longer, but always quite under protest, and always to the delight of his people. His first twenty years saw him pastor of the following churches: Cornwall, Second Church, Newburgh; Modena, Marlboro, Hedding, Poughkeepsie; Sing Sing, Bedford Street, New York; Forty-third Street, New York; White Plains, and the Church of the Saviour, New York. Then he was most unexpectedly made presiding elder of the New York District. At the close of his eldership several of our most conspicuous pastorates were urged upon him, but nothing would be accept upon his own district, and returned, instead, to the second church he had ever served in the Conference, St. John's Church, Newburgh, where now he consented to remain two years. Then followed Trinity, Poughkeepsie; Central, New York, and St. James, Kingston. His last year at Poughkeepsie had given him a rude warning that his heart was structurally weak, and he was never allowed to forget it. Now, however, constant pulpit work became definitely overtaxing, and he preferred for the next two years to serve as financial agent of the Conference trustees. But the year following he consented to be assigned to Morris Heights, and a year there passed so free from alarms that the following year he consented to try whether he could carry the heavier task of Kingsbridge. It was a kind and a conscientious venture. If the undertaking was too onerous—if less than half a year removed him from our midst—still nothing can take from us the beautiful record of nearly forty years, white as new snow, and fragrant as an orchard in blossom. Early in the year following his last assignment the wisdom of it became doubtful, and his strength seemed insecure. On the 15th of August, being at his country home, he wrote a dear friend how deeply he was enjoying his vacation, and said "he had come to long more than ever before for the quiet the country gave him. . . . I return to Kingsbridge for the first Sabbath in September, and hope if my health is good to do yet some fair work; for it will not be long." On the 29th he says again, "We would like to stay here another month, but we must return to Gotham to-morrow, or Friday sure." How the dear man must have longed for that "quiet" country during the following week or two! The old warning was back again. On the 20th of September he wrote that best friend of forty-five years, William E. Ketcham: "For about a week now I have been a 'shut-in,' and an object of sympathy on the part of my brethren here and about us. I am glad of their brotherly kindness, but the necessity for it, up to this point at least, cuts to the very quick, and makes me feel, as I have no doubt you have sometimes felt, that there is something better than extra-conditional life, or present existence hedged in on every side by limitations." That friend had passed some time with him the Monday following, and on Wednesday Dr. Gregory, anxious to know how his visitor had reached home that day, wrote a brief note of inquiry, and added: "I am as well as I could expect, I presume. But I think my work is done; and I would feel better now if relieved of this responsibility. I am in the good Lord's hands—his will be done! I wait for indications, and will follow where he leads." This is Wednesday, September 26, and the following Sunday, the 30th, he evidently decided to test whether or not his work was to be any longer in the pulpit. Like another Elijah, he seemed called by an inner voice not only down to the Jordan, but beyond it, and beyond the mountains which look down upon it. He entered his pulpit that morning to preach. His sermon lay upon the open Bible. He had opened his service, led his congregation in one of his wonderful prayers, notable in phrase as in feeling and thought, and returned to his chair. But that sermon was not to be delivered. Before he ever spoke again, or even moved to rise, an unseen chariot drew near, made room for him, and bore his spirit out of reach. His work was done.

William Stevens was born at Burslem, Staffordshire, England, October 18, 1818. His parents were members of the Wesleyan Church, his father being an acceptable local preacher for more than thirty years. He was carefully instructed in the doctrines and duties of the Christian religion, became a member of the Church in his boyhood, and was licensed to preach before he was nineteen years of age. In 1843 he came to the city of New York, bringing with him ample indorsements of his Christian character and official standing as a local preacher. He found his way to the old John Street Methodist Episcopal Church, into whose fellowship he was cordially received. Later he transferred his membership to the Thirtieth Street Church. Here he made the acquaintance of Miss Mary Dealing, to whom he was married in June, 1852. He began his lifework in the itinerant ministry in 1852, serving one year at Cold Spring as a supply. In 1853 he was admitted on trial in the New York Conference. In 1855 he was received into full membership and ordained deacon, and two years after was ordained elder. For more than thirty years he served the Church faithfully in nineteen different pastoral charges. He was an able preacher, well read in theology, biblical literature, and general history. His style was largely biblical and didactic. He never sought to captivate the drifting crowd by doubtful and unworthy methods. Many stars will doubtless adorn the crown of his rejoicing in the day of final reckoning. In 1885 he retired from the more active duties of the ministry and settled in Fishkill, N. Y., where he was still useful among the people preaching, visiting the sick, and cheerfully doing such other service for the Church as his age and health enabled him to do. In the weekly prayer meeting a few days before his death he arose and said, "I have been examining myself to see if death should come suddenly, as by a stroke, if I should be prepared; and by the grace of God I think I should be. Glory to his name!" Soon the end came. On the 17th day of May, 1900, without any symptoms of pain or suffering, he fell asleep in the arms of his Saviour, aged eighty-one years. His funeral was largely attended. His mortal remains rest peacefully in the beautiful Rural Cemetery of Fishkill village. His wife and three daughters survive.

Isaac B. Heroy was born at Ulster Heights, April 13, 1822, and died near Ellenville, N. Y., January 9, 1901. His father, David Heroy, was a local preacher for forty-nine years. One of his sons, David, Jr., was a member of the New York Conference from 1856 until 1891. Another son was a local preacher, and labored for many years in Oregon. Other members of the family were ardent workers in the Church of Christ. He was converted in 1843. His clear religious experience, exemplary life, and talent as a speaker pointed him out as one called of God to preach the Gospel of Jesus Christ. He was licensed first as an exhorter and then as a local preacher, in which capacity he served the Church acceptably for sixteen years, traveling on foot every Sunday from ten to twenty miles, and always preaching twice, and often four times, each Sabbath day. This service was performed as a labor of love, while he was employed every other day of the week in his regular manual labor. He offered himself to the Church, and was admitted into the New York Conference in 1839. Olive was his first appointment, and this was succeeded as follows: Shokan, Glasco, Sandburg, Liberty, Crawford, Monticello, West Hurley, Hancock, Edenville and New Milford, Cornwall, Ancram and East Ancram. At the close of this appointment his health became so much impaired that he was compelled to take a superannuated relation. He was an efficient preacher. The matter of his sermons was well prepared, his language was apt and earnest, his voice and manner pleasing and impressive. Possessed of good musical talent, he used it in his various charges in the instruction of youth and organization of choirs to enrich the service of God's house. The record of his ministry shows large accessions to the Church through his devoted labors. In 1847 he married Hannah M. Heroy, who now, with four sons, survives him. Of these sons one, Newman L. Heroy, is a member of the New York Conference. He died not far from the place where he was born, and where he had spent one half of his years. The funeral services were held in the Ellenville church. The interment was in the cemetery at Ellenville. Full of years and good works this true man of God rests from his labors, and his works do follow him.

Adee Vail was born in Dutchess County, N. Y., August 12, 1814, and died at his home in Spencertown, N. Y., March 13, 1901. His father belonged to that religious society known as the Hicksite Quakers. He was especially an enemy to the Methodists, who were at that time very weak in that county. When about seventeen years of age he, with some young companions, attended a Methodist revival meeting, and for the first time heard a Gospel sermon. It made a very deep and lasting impression on his mind. He continued to attend the meetings, notwithstanding the opposition at home. One night, while returning from a class meeting, he says: "I felt a great burden of sin weighing down upon my heart. I felt I was lost, and I determined then and there to seek the salvation of my soul. I fell upon my knees and cried for mercy. The Lord heard my prayer and for Christ's sake forgave my sins, and I went on my way rejoicing." He at once joined the Church. His father was very angry, and at once gave him to understand that he must either give up the Church and keep away from those Methodists or leave home, never to cross its threshold again. His reply was something like this: "Father, Christ has done great things for me. I can leave home, but I never shall give up my Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ." He was compelled to leave home. His father disinherited him, and for many years would not allow him to come home. He finally relented, and before he died became reconciled to his son, and on one occasion gave him the privilege of preaching in the old homestead. He was licensed to exhort and to preach in 1841. He joined the New York Conference in 1845, and served the following charges in succession: Mellenville, Norfolk, Putnam Valley, Wurtsboro, Monticello, Gilboa, Franklin, Middletown, Windham, Kiskatom, Cairo, Coeyman's Hollow, Dutchess, Hermon, Middle Patent, Ashford, Ancram, Spencertown and Harlemville, North Egremont and Alford, 1885–92 supernumerary, 1893 to time of his death superannuated. As a minister of the Gospel he was preeminently a success. He was a fearless preacher. In the early days of his ministry Calvinism, Universalism, Adventism were the prevailing forms of heresy, and he dealt them sturdy blows. His theological belief was summarized in the following words: "Christ is the only and all-sufficient Saviour, able to save to the uttermost all that will come unto God by him." He was logical, earnest, practical, and constantly looking for immediate results. He was preeminently a revivalist. Blessed with a strong physical constitution, an active mind, and consecrated heart, he went "fishing for men;" his labors were greatly blessed of God, and hundreds were converted and brought into the Church. He was twice married. His first wife was Miss Harriet O. Thomson. His second wife was Mrs. Eliza Ann Thorn, who died seven years ago. From a large family of children there are only four that remain: Rev. Seymour Vail, a member of the Vermont Conference; Royal Vail, a local elder in the Vermont Conference; and two daughters. His last sickness was accompanied by a great deal of suffering, but in the midst of pain and weakness he was calm and submissive, perfectly resigned to the will of God. Appropriate and deeply impressive services were held at his home church at Spencertown, March 17, 1901.

Seymour Van Deusen was born in the town of Copake, Columbia County, N. Y., September 25, 1810, and died in White Plains, N. Y., December 6, 1900. He was of Holland-Scottish ancestry. When in his seventeenth year he was converted. He was licensed to preach in 1833, and began his ministry in June, 1834. In May, 1835, he was received on trial in the New York Conference, and two years later into full connection. His appointments were: Johnsville, Cortland, Bedford, Mount Pleasant, Ridgefield, Duane Street, New York; Matteawan, Cold Spring, Cannon Street, Poughkeepsie; Bedford Street, New York; Prattsville District, 1855–1900 superannuated. The early years of his ministry were years of hardship, extensive travel, and limited salary, and yet success attended his efforts in winning souls to Christ. At the Duane Church occurred a very remarkable revival in which about five hundred persons professed conversion. During this meeting Dr. Evert was converted and joined the Church, and later became a distinguished member of the Philadelphia Conference. While pastor of Bedford Street Church another gracious revival occurred. It lasted for three months, and five hundred or more professed conversion, the most of whom were received on probation. In 1851 Bishop Janes appointed him presiding elder of Delaware District. This district was large, embracing the whole of Greene County, almost the whole of Delaware County, parts of Albany, Schoharie, Otsego, Ulster, and Sullivan Counties, in New York, and a part of Wayne County, in Pennsylvania. The winters on this district were very severe. The second year he was on the district, 1852, the Monticello District was set apart by itself. In 1853 the name of the district was changed to Prattsville District. In 1856 he was elected a member of the General Conference. In the latter part of 1857 he supplied the Greenburg Charge. For three years he was chaplain of the Westchester almshouse. From that time until his death he performed but very little ministerial service. He was twice married. On the 23d of April, 1834, Miss Lydia Ann Mosier became his wife. With her he lived for thirty years, when she was called to her reward. On the 8th of June, 1869, he was married to Mrs. Sarah M. Marshall, who still survives. His funeral was held in Memorial Church, White Plains, N. Y. He was esteemed highly among his brethren. His piety, deep, fervent, and abiding, was characterized by much prayer. His preaching was plain, practical, and evangelical.

Cyrus Foss Wixon was born in Putnam Valley, Putnam County, N. Y., April 10, 1831. His parents were old-time Methodists. They gave to their only son the honored and beloved name of one of the leaders of the Church of their time, Cyrus Foss, the father of Bishop Cyrus D. Foss. In 1845 young Wixon was the first to come forward to the altar for the prayers of the church. He struggled long before light and peace came, but it came at last, and came to abide with him. He at once joined the Church and began to exercise his gifts and graces. The family removed to Gardnertown, where the Quarterly Conference gave him license to preach and recommended him to be received into the New York Conference. He entered the Conference in 1867. While in the full, active work he held twelve pastorates. During 1890 and 1891 he was superannuated. From 1892 to 1897 he sustained a supernumerary relation to the Conference with work. No record could be found of his fields of labor during this period. His ministerial life covers a period of thirty-four years. He entered into his heavenly rest January 23, 1901.

New York East Conference.

Larmon Wooster Abbott was born in Middlebury, Conn., January 11, 1818, and died in Ridgefield, Conn., April 12, 1900. Young Abbott had an active and eager mind, and longed for an ample education. He had been converted about his eighteenth anniversary, three months before going to New Haven, and he was received into full membership there, in First Church, about August, 1836. He was soon a teacher in the Sunday school, a choir singer, a skirmisher with other young men in outside mission work, and, when only twenty, a class leader, and active in the organization of the new "Second Church," St. John Street, now Epworth Church. Here he was soon superintendent of the Sunday school, and a licensed exhorter. In May, 1844, he removed from New Haven to Waterbury, which was his home for the next eleven years. His most notable work at Waterbury was as a member and preacher in the Methodist church in the city, and in all the region round about. Before he had been there a year the church forced upon him a license as a local preacher, and, by request of the church, which was then weak and in debt, he and Joseph Smith, then a local preacher just arrived from England, supplied the pulpit for two years, 1845–46, during which time the debt was paid off and the church much strengthened. For the next seven years, while in business, he was actively at work as a local preacher in Watertown, North Watertown, Middlebury, Southbury, Southford, Naugatuck, Beacon Falls, Prospect, Thomaston, Harwinton, and Bristol. It was the Watertown Church, which he had founded in 1853, which finally drew him into the itinerancy. He became its pastor and for three years he served the church as a local preacher. He was admitted to the Conference in 1858. His next charge was Bethlehem. He labored there four years, the latter two, at the request of the people, as a supernumerary. In his first two charges he was their founder and pioneer, and his work is a sample of what is still possible and needed, even in New England. In his subsequent work he was in older charges, and his work can be rapidly sketched. His successive appointments were: West Winsted, Wolcottville (now Torrington); New Britain, Ridgefield, Southport, Summerfield and Newfields Churches, Bridgeport. Thus he spent twenty-three years of highly effective labor in only eight appointments, although nine of those years were under the "two years' rule." As a preacher, while not oratorical or scholastic, he was always clear, logical, scriptural, spiritual, and practical, sound in doctrine, correct and simple in diction, and equally free from levity on the one hand or sanctimonious cant on the other, and with a warm and earnest unction that kindled an edifying glow in the hearts of his hearers. He conducted family worship until a week before his death, and his clearest mental exercise was in prayer. The immediate cause of his death was la grippe, running into pneumonia, and lasting less than a week. During those brief days his mind was very clear and his soul full of peace. He often exclaimed: "The Lord is good! The Lord is so good!" Thus he passed away, his last years and days being full of sweet patience and untroubled rest in God. His remains were laid to rest in his family plot, Riverside Cemetery, Waterbury, amid the scenes of his early labors.

Albert Nash was born May 22, 1812, and died in Otego, N. Y., May 14, 1900. He was converted at sixteen, was baptized in May, 1828, and received into Church membership the following October. He was made a class leader at twenty-one, a licensed exhorter at twenty-two, and a local preacher at twenty-three years of age. In 1837 he joined the New York Conference, and was ordained deacon in 1839, and elder in 1841. The first eleven years of his ministry were spent in that Conference, within the Rhinebeck District. At the division of the New York Conference, in 1848, he became a member of the New York East, and remained such until his decease. He served the following charges: Meriden, West Winsted, Stamford, Brooklyn Home Mission (now Warren Street). From 1856 to 1859, inclusive, he was presiding elder of the New Haven District. Afterward he was stationed at Bridgeport, South Norwalk, and Eighteenth Street, Brooklyn. In 1866, by reason of impaired health, he superannuated and took up his residence in Lee, Mass. The following nine or ten years he did supply work, as his strength allowed, in Berkshire County. He was married three times, and to him were born six children. His last wife and three of these children survive him. In 1884 he took up his residence in Otego, N. Y. About this time he wrote: "Since 1880 have settled on an estate and have made my garden; cannot preach now. Have gradually grown weak. Am a happy old man, trusting in Christ." He was a delegate to the General Conference of 1860. He was the only survivor of that delegation, and also enjoyed the distinction of being the senior member of his Conference as to service in the presiding eldership, and second as delegate to the General Conference. At the close of his record he expressed his deep feeling of humility in the words: "I have been a very unprofitable servant. God be merciful to me a sinner." He was never a censorious critic, but by wise counsel and fraternal helpfulness made himself a positive force for good in the pastor's life. It was a means of blessing to converse with him in his home. He took a lively interest in the affairs of the country, every just cause receiving the full power of his influence. All who knew him esteemed him. Those who were admitted into the inner circle of his life loved him as a father. When he came to the passage of the river of death the faith which he preached to others did not fail him. His last words to his pastor were, "God bless you!" uttered in a whisper when he had well-nigh reached the better land. It was the ruling spirit strong in death. His funeral services were conducted by Rev. N. B. Ripley. The body was taken to Stockbridge, Conn., and laid at rest until the resurrection.

Thomas H. Burch was born in Philadelphia June 29, 1823, and died in New York city May 27, 1900. He joined the New York East Conference in 1850, and was appointed to Flatbush as his first charge. His subsequent appointments were: Flatlands, First Place, Brooklyn; Flushing, Forsyth Street, New York; Hartford, Stamford, Conn.; First Church, New Haven, Conn.; Danbury, Conn.; Thirty-seventh Street, New York; Greenpoint Tabernacle, Brooklyn; Second Avenue (now Trinity), New York; Central Church, Brooklyn; presiding elder of New York District; Trinity Church, New York, for a second term; Greenpoint Tabernacle, Brooklyn, for a second term; Trinity Church, New York, for a third term; Ridgefield, Conn. At the session of the New York East Conference of 1897 he took a superannuated relation. Since 1883 he was a member of the Board of Managers of the Missionary Society. The funeral services were held in Trinity Methodist Episcopal Church, New York, where Dr. Burch had been pastor for three terms, a total of eleven years, and were conducted by W. A. Richard, pastor of the church. The burial was on Wednesday, May 30, in Greenwood Cemetery. A memorial tablet was unveiled in Trinity Methodist Episcopal Church to the memory of Dr. Burch, Sunday, October 28, 1900. Bishop Edward G. Andrews, D.D., preached a sermon in the morning, and presided and spoke at a memorial service in the evening. A memorial address was delivered in the evening by Dr. W. V. Kelley. Dr. Burch's career as a pastor was extraordinary. He was a pastor of a prominent church in New York city three full terms, or eleven years. A correspondent of The Christian Advocate, in 1889, wrote: "When a man gets to be forty-five or fifty years of age, he either gets out of the pastorate as soon as he can or the people do not wish his services and thrust him back into obscurity. Name, if you can, any pastors of what are called first-class churches in large cities that are much or any over fifty years of age." The editor said, in comment: "At this very time the Rev. Thomas H. Burch, who has spent his whole ministry of nearly forty years in the New York East Conference, is in his third term in Trinity Church, Harlem, this city." As a pastor he was universally popular. His eminent social qualities supplemented his unusual pulpit ability and enabled him to achieve a record as pastor and preacher which was almost ideal. His friendliness in affliction, his geniality in social life, his tact, shrewdness, and invariable good humor enabled him to smooth out difficulties so successfully as to satisfy all parties to the controversy. He had a vast host of friends who will never forget him. He was without an enemy. A good and a great man has been taken from our number to join his comrades who have been transferred before him. The memories of these brethren abide with us as our most precious treasures. We should honor the few old men that remain. It will brighten their lives and give their hearts a glow to be told, as it did our lamented friend and brother, that we love them for their estimable characters, and honor and revere them for their faithful and self-sacrificing service. It is necessary to emphasize our obligation to our honored and loved brethren of the veteran legion, "Lest we forget—lest we forget." Each may be sure that the great Leader and Commander will remember. "For God is not unrighteous to forget your work and labor of love, which ye have showed toward his name, in that ye have ministered to the saints, and do minister. And we desire that every one of you do show the same diligence to the full assurance of hope unto the end: that ye be not slothful, but followers of them who through faith and patience inherit the promises."

Justus Overton Worth was born in Selden, Long Island, September 10, 1817, and died in Sea Cliff, Long Island, June 27, 1900. He was converted at a camp meeting near Sea Cliff in 1831. He was called a soul seeker, and he kept at it nearly all his Christian life. He was made a class leader at seventeen, and held the office with little interruption till his death. He was not unfaithful to a long series of heavenly visions; his religious life finely illustrates the teachings of that blessed book, Growth in Holiness. Up to his capacity he was a genuine Christian man. He had the saint's pure heart, and he saw God. The true poet-heart was his, and all nature thrilled him—from the breath of the arbutus to the giant oak; from the song of the bluebird to the roar of the ocean in its rage, all was music, all was beauty and grandeur to him. Above all, the manifestations of God in nature were the revelations of God in the kingdom of grace. His last sickness was short. His mind was serene as a June evening; he was lingering in the twilight listening for the footstep of the Shepherd to conduct him down through the deep shadows and up to the noble company of just men made perfect. His Lord called him, and he smiled his "good-bye" to earth and passed up to his Father's house. Four children, by his first wife, survive him, together with his widow, and her children who came with her into his family at the time of their marriage. His death has revealed to them the beauty and strength of his character even more clearly than they realized it in his lifetime.

John Storry Breckinridge was born in Oneida County, N. Y., July 12, 1838; he passed to the occupancy of his heavenly mansion from Stamford, N. Y., August 28, 1900. Between the days of birth and death there were sixty-two years of serious living. Even in youth, when pulsing passions robe themselves in folly, he was earnest and resolved. Plain living and high thinking was the portion of his boyhood. Then came his spiritual awakening; at first the despondent sorrow from a sense of sin, to be followed by buoyant gladness from the assurance of pardon. No crisis in a human experience exhibits such fluctuating emotions as when one is converted; at no other time does a man sink so low in self-depreciation or rise so loftily into inestimable appraisement. Life is delicious to a newborn soul. In his case the birth was real, and the delights were abiding. The sequence of that conversion, added to his natural seriousness, was his consecration to the Christian ministry. Realizing the value of equipment, he determined to secure a classical education. His chiefest resources were found in his inflexible will. He matriculated at Wesleyan University in 1857. The year of graduation at Middletown was also the beginning of his work as a minister. The first charge was Middlebury, Conn., in 1861. His subsequent appointments were: Plymouth, Bethel, Norwalk, Birmingham, Middletown, Conn.; Brooklyn, Tabernacle Church, Grace Church, and Sands Street. In 1883 he went to Meriden, Conn., for a full term; and in 1886 became pastor at Simpson Church, Brooklyn. Through the twenty-five years of his career as pastor he was master of himself; was discreet and amiable in his social relations; was an orderly and clear thinker; was unique and attractive in statement; and was singularly pious. He had the respect of every community where he lived; he had the love of a wide circle of friends; and he had the unqualified admiration of those who knew him best. In 1887 the managers of the Methodist Hospital, in Brooklyn, were in a severe predicament. A series of buildings had been generously planned, a calamitous embarrassment had prevented their completion, and the humanitarian enterprise begun by the greatest Protestant evangelical denomination was threatened with disaster. The selection of a superintendent for the new hospital was a vital question. Dr. Breckinridge was invited to undertake the new work; a few days of consideration produced a favorable decision, and he entered upon his experimental task with hopefulness. The magnitude of his undertaking is not sufficiently appreciated. But concealing his sensitiveness when trials came, and covering his embarrassments when plans miscarried, he elevated the Methodist Hospital until it received generous recognition as part of the work of Christ's Church. The ten vigorous years of his responsible superintendency were years of unexampled loyalty to his task. He forgot the distinction that days were for labor and nights for rest; he forgot the pleasures of his home and the claims of his family; no journey was too long, no season untimely if only work could be done. And those ten years brought a great reward. He became ill and knew the fatal consequences of his illness, but that never weakened his will or prevented his work. Plans were conceived and brought to successful maturity, and the Church which he loved, as represented by the hospital which he served, was benefited by those plans. He hoped for benefits from the clear air of the Catskill Mountains, and went to Stamford, N. Y., in August of last year, where he was subjected to serious hemorrhages, which resulted in his decease on the 28th of that month. The remains were brought to Brooklyn, and funeral exercises, conducted by the writer, and participated in by G. P. Mains, James M. Buckley, and J. S. Chadwick, gave inadequate expression to his worth as a minister and a man. The human form was reverently conveyed to the little village of Brooklyn, in the State of Pennsylvania, and there, in the God's acre attached to the Methodist Episcopal church, he was buried. His wife, an invalid, and two children—a son and a daughter—survive.

Jonathan Hugh Slater was born September 23, 1865, and died September 22, 1900. Joining the Conference in 1893, his appointments were: Rowayton, Conn.; Cropsey Avenue, Brooklyn. At the time of his death he was serving the Conference as its statistical secretary. On June 3, 1896, he was married to Miss Lauretta Sherer. Addresses were made at the funeral services, which were held Tuesday, September 24, by Brothers Chadwick, Benedict, and Wing, and the interment was in Cypress Hills Cemetery. Our brother was well born. His parents, residents of the little mountain village of Hensonville, N. Y., were devout Christians, and his grandparents, at least on his father's side, were the leading Methodists in the countryside. The rocky hillsides and secluded valleys of his early home had been pierced by the bridle paths of the early itinerants from the days of Asbury and Garrettson, and were rich in memories of them and of the later giants Phineas Rice and the Bangses. Born in a community where the very atmosphere was saturated with Methodism, and four out of every five persons affiliated, more or less, closely with it, at an early age was enrolled among its members, and the young lad began Christian life. His native place is only a little hamlet, but it is free from the saloon and possessed of a good school, which furnished the foundation of his education. He graduated from Hackettstown Institute in 1888. The fall of this year found him at Middletown, entering the classical course of Wesleyan University, with the class of 1892. Upon the completion of this course he went to Drew for his theological course, and was graduated in the spring of 1895. It is not an injustice to those who were his fellow-students, neither is it an exaggeration of his genial fellowship, to say that few, or none, in all the schools he attended were more popular or more respected than Slater. In addition to his regular college work, the little supply appointment of Rocky Hill was delighted with his ministerial services. In him were blended a spiritual dynamic that wins men for Christ, and that jovial fellowship that smooths rough edges and makes cheerfulness contagious. It is sufficient to say of his preaching that it was the direct, manly, calm statement of conviction born of direct perception of the truth and clear apprehension of the listener's needs. Among his people Brother Slater was true pastor, watching the flock and ministering to them, one of his last acts being to visit a poor woman in a hospital in a distant part of the city. Suddenly as death came to him it did not find him unprepared, and he went out, not to thick darkness, but unto the city of the living God, the heavenly Jerusalem.

Moses Clark White was born in Paris Hill, Oneida County, N. Y., July 12, 1819, and died in New Haven, Conn., October 24, 1900. In his sixteenth year he was converted and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church. At twenty-one years of age he entered Oneida Conference Seminary, at Cazenovia, N. Y. He was graduated from Wesleyan in 1845. He studied theology and medicine for two years in Yale College. In 1846 he joined New York Conference, and was stationed as junior preacher at St. John Street, in New Haven, pursuing his studies contemporaneously with his pastoral work. On April 15, 1847, he sailed with the first company of Methodist missionaries, as a missionary and physician, to Foochow, China, a voyage lasting nearly five months. At Foochow for five years he conducted a public dispensary, returning to this country in 1852, on account of the failure of his wife's health. He had extraordinary success in administering to the sick in that far country, entirely superseding, in many cases, the professional services of native physicians. He translated the gospel of Matthew into the colloquial dialect of Foochow, which was the first Christian book ever published in that language. He also composed and published an introduction to the study of the same speech, and subsequently issued various works upon science. It would be difficult, if not impossible, to adequately analyze and estimate the heroic, scientific, helpful, and self-sacrificing career of this noble man of God. All the many years of his ceaseless and effective service of his divine Master, in the intellectual and moral uplift of his fellow-men, are doubtless recorded on high, to be authoritatively announced from the throne of the universe at the assembling of the judgment. We cannot here do more than imperfectly indicate some of the more salient facts of his masterful achievements. He conducted in New Haven, nearly to the close of his remarkably busy life, a school for the secular and religious instruction of the Chinese of that city. He sustained a superannuated relation since the spring of 1854. He married Miss Isabel Jane Atwater, of Homer, N. Y., March 13, 1847. She was active and efficient as her husband's helper in his invaluable work in China. She died at Foochow, May 25, 1848, at the early age of twenty-six years. He was again married, his second wife being Miss Mary Seely. This event took place in Foochow in 1851. She was a missionary there at the time, having gone from her home at Onondaga, N. Y., with a company of missionaries, led by Dr. Isaac W. Wiley and wife. Mrs. White returned to this country in 1852, on account of impaired health, and died in New Haven in March, 1887. The remains of the subject of our memoir were buried in the cemetery at New Haven.

Charles Wesley Lyon was born in Schooley's Mountain, N. J., November 15, 1831. He was twenty-three before he was able to begin the advanced training for his lifework. He then spent about four years in regular study at New York University and Garrett Biblical Institute. Financial conditions delayed for a year his entrance into the ministry, and for that time he filled a business position so successfully that liberal inducements were offered him to remain. When, however, his debts were paid, and the younger members of the family provided for, he resigned his place to accept in New York Conference an appointment where the income was less than one fourth of what he had received in business. Soon after assuming the duties of his first regular charge he was married to Eunice A. Smith, of North Haven, Conn. Three boys were born to them, one of whom died in infancy. The union was a most congenial one; their purpose and spirit were the same. The death of his beloved wife occurred while he was stationed at Bay Ridge. From Bay Ridge he went to Essex, and while there was married to Mrs. Almina G. Mantz, who survives him. During the month of August last he became very weak. In hope of regaining his strength he went to a sanitarium in Saratoga, where his general health greatly improved. He suffered, however, from an organic defect of the heart, and from this cause he was subject to occasional periods of bodily depression. The end came suddenly on Thursday morning, December 20, 1900. The funeral was in the Congregational church of North Haven, the address being made by B. M. Adams. The last months of his life, in spite of his illness, were characterized by a comfortable cheerfulness. He had no fear of death. He often spoke of it as a river—a mysterious river, seeming dark and cold, and yet, withal, a blessed river. Very dear ones had gone over it; just across they were waiting for him in brightness, in glory. And there abode with him the consolation and tenderness of the divine Presence. It was his custom when reading to make marginal notes and mark passages which impressed him. On the last pages that he read these words were found marked and underlined: "I am walking the hills of old Judea with the beautiful, gentle God;" and again: "Do you not see, O my brothers and sisters? It is not chaos or death; it is form, union, plan; it is eternal life; it is happiness!"

Burrial Smith was born in Emmerslef, Slesvig, which at that time belonged to Denmark, June 12, 1826, and died at Neenah, Wis., March 12, 1901. His father, a sea captain, was drowned in 1830. His mother gave her three fatherless children, of which the subject of this memoir was the youngest, a good education. At the death of his mother he was present, in 1871, and he delivered an address at her funeral. When twenty-one years old he decided to emigrate to America, and came to New York in June, 1847. Soon after this he was gloriously converted to God, under the ministry of the old, genial Hedstrom, the Swede. Having united with the Bethel Ship Mission, he commenced immediately to hold cottage prayer meetings and distribute tracts among his countrymen in Brooklyn and New York. On his leaving for Denmark, in 1857, he was granted an exhorter's license, and was the first man, so far as known, who propagated the doctrines and usages of the Methodist Episcopal Church in that country. He labored there for fifteen years, returning to New York in 1872, where he became Hedstrom's helper in the Bethel Ship Mission. Soon afterward he was appointed missionary to the Swedes and Danes in Dover, N. J. Perth Amboy was later added to this charge, and he preached in both places alternately. He was ordained elder in 1874, and stationed at Perth Amboy, N. J., where he built a church in 1876. In 1880 he was transferred from the New York East Conference to the Norwegian and Danish Conference and stationed in Milwaukee, Wis. Since that time he has served the following charges: Neenah, Wis.; Evanston, Ill.; Manistee, Mich.; Des Moines, Ia.; Sheboygan, Wis.; and Perth Amboy, N. J. He was transferred back to the New York East Conference in 1891, and was granted a superannuated relation in 1898, since which time he has been residing in his little home in Neenah, Wis. He was married to Miss Eva Larson in 1857. She died and entered the rest that remaineth for the children of God, March 12, 1883. Eighteen months after her death he was married to Miss Carrie De Merrit, of Neenah, Wis., who survives to mourn her loss. His sufferings were great during his last sickness, but he bore all without a murmur or complaint. He was full of joy and thanksgiving to God for all that he had done for him, and his last words shortly before he died were these: "I am now going home." "Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth: Yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors; and their works do follow them."

Baltimore Conference.

Wiltz Raymond Stricklen was born in Aberdeen, Harford County, Md., December 11, 1858, and died in Phœnix, Ariz., December 19, 1900. He was educated at Johns Hopkins University. He was converted at the altar of Old Monument Street Church, North Baltimore, and was licensed to preach by the Quarterly Conference of that church in 1880. He preached his first sermon on the Sabbath before Thanksgiving of that year, and a few weeks thereafter was appointed junior preacher on the Berkeley Springs Circuit. In March, 1881, he was received on trial in the Baltimore Conference and was returned to Berkeley Springs Circuit, with Rev. Reuben Kolb as his senior. In 1882 he was appointed to Summerfield Circuit; in 1883 was ordained deacon, and appointed associate preacher to West River Circuit, and was returned for the second year in 1884. He was ordained elder in 1885, and served as junior preacher East Baltimore Station for two years. In 1887 he was appointed to Jackson Square Station as preacher in charge, and was returned in 1888. At the end of this year the congregation consolidated with East Baltimore Station, and he was appointed to another venerable and venerated charge, Wesley Chapel, Baltimore. Here he served with increasing acceptability and success for four years, when in 1893 he was appointed to West Baltimore Station, where for three years he performed splendid service. In 1896 he was sent to Hamline Church, Washington, where he served for three years. He soon had the hearts of his people, and secured a reputation as an earnest, scholarly, and efficient minister of the Gospel. In the summer of 1899, during his vacation, which he spent in New England, a slight bronchial irritation became apparent, and obeying his physician's advice, he spent the winter in Asheville, N. C. For a time he seemed to improve, but the harassing cough was never silenced. He returned to Washington in March, 1900, and received his appointment for the fifth year to Hamline Church. Through the spring and summer he was able to perform his duties with much of his former zeal and effectiveness. Sunday, September 2, he delivered what was to be his last sermon. It was one of peculiar impressiveness. Immediately thereafter the symptoms of his disease became so insistent that he went to Phœnix, Ariz., for treatment. One by one the dying tapers flickering there in the low valley where he struggled so bravely were blown out, and that so gently, so noiselessly that not one rude sound came to alarm or dismay. On the morning of December 19 last the quick eye of that faithful wife, his constant nurse from the beginning to the end of the long, hard battle, detected the approach of the inevitable. "Raymond, shall I not send for our Methodist pastor here in Phœnix?" "Yes," he said, "I always liked prayer." The pastor came and prayed, whispered, "He is dying," and departed. Shortly thereafter awaking as from a reverie, and glancing toward the large window, he said quietly, "Lift the window and let the sunshine in." It was done, and then a flood of golden glory filled the room, and there quietly reposing in it, even smiling with it, almost transfigured by it, Raymond Stricklen passed on to the more excellent glory, to that supernal light that breaks forever from the throne of God and the Lamb. Across the continent they brought his precious dust, and laid it before the altar of his church. Over him his brethren pronounced tender eulogies, and in a quiet spot in Loudoun Park, Baltimore, they laid him tenderly to rest until that morning breaks that shall see the night never more. It may be said that rarely has a better-equipped minister of Jesus Christ lived and worked among us. He was a close student of the Bible. His Greek Testament was his constant companion. He read only the best books. He was apt, sagacious, instant in the use of wise expedients, and excelled in the ready adaptation of approved means to reach righteous results. You could trust him, upon special occasions, to say the right thing at the right time. He was humble. Unholy ambitions, stooping to questionable plottings for his personal gain had absolutely no place in his character. But he could maintain his own cause. No man dare insult him. He never shirked responsibility even when it might bring about collision. A manly Christian, without fear and without reproach, his translation from us is a distinct, well-nigh irreparable loss. Only implicit faith in God's unerring judgment enables us to suppress the question, Why?

New Hampshire Conference.

Samuel Crofut Keeler was born in Reading, Conn., April 1, 1828, and died in East Rochester, N. H., September 18, 1900. He was licensed to preach in 1852 and joined the New York East Conference, of which he continued a member for twenty-four years, twelve of which were spent in New York city and Brooklyn, during which time he served as pastor of four churches, one of these being the historical John Street Church, the first Methodist Episcopal Church in America. In 1877 he was transferred to the New Hampshire Conference, and has since served as pastor of churches in Suncook, Sunapee, Laconia, Keene, Concord, Bethlehem, Epping, and East Rochester. He was presiding elder of Concord District for six years, beginning with 1890. In 1892 he was elected delegate to the General Conference at Omaha, Neb., leading his delegation. He visited Europe in 1862 at the suggestion and expense of his parishioners. In 1852 he married Miss Lydia Williams, who passed into her heavenly home January 30, 1894. Seven children survive. Mr. Keeler was a Christian gentleman of the first order, and a man of deep convictions, broad sympathies, and ardent spirit. His positions were carefully taken and then courteously and forcibly maintained. The public knew where he stood on the question of temperance and all other leading issues of the day. He was a scholar of no mean ability. He had a liberal education, not secured within college walls, but in the school of practical life, and in calling to his aid the best thoughts of the best authors in all ages. He possessed in a remarkable degree the ability of self-application and discipline. He was equally at home in his own pulpit, on the city platform, or before a committee of the legislature in the interests of a common humanity. His sermons and addresses were always thoughtful, dignified, helpful, sometimes eloquent. His nature was tender and poetic. He was a most devoted husband and father. A pleasanter home you could hardly find. In August last he served as chairman of an important committee at Hedding camp meeting. Wednesday evening, September 12, was held his second and last Quarterly Conference. He had been in Rochester during the day, and was in his usual spirits, looking carefully after the interests of the Church, and discussing plans for revival work. The next morning, evidently with great reluctance, he told his presiding elder that possibly he might be obliged to resign his work for the winter, and was anxious to know how the Church might be best cared for in that event. He loved the Church, and her interests were on his mind to the very last. Sunday morning he commenced his service as usual, but at the close of the prayer was not able to proceed. Here ended his public ministrations. On Tuesday, a little before noon, his earthly life ended and the heavenly began. Mr. Keeler never seemed like an old man. Young in spirit he entered heartily into the life of the world. He fell at his post, on duty to the last. The funeral services were held in the church Thursday afternoon, September 20, under the direction of Rev. J. E. Robins, presiding elder of the district, and on the Saturday following his remains were laid to rest in the family lot at Bethel, Conn., to await the resurrection of the just.

Anson Case Coult was born in Massabesic, N. H., May 22, 1836, and died in Manchester, N. H., October 5, 1900. His parents were members of the Congregational Church. He attended the schools of his native city, and graduated from the high school, being noted especially for his proficiency in mathematics. After leaving school he spent several years as a clerk in a mercantile establishment. While thus engaged in Brockton, Mass., and when about nineteen years of age he gave himself to the Lord and his service. He soon felt a call to the ministry, to which he yielded after having given the matter serious and prayerful consideration. He was a student at the Biblical Institute at Concord for three years, graduating therefrom. He was received as a probationer in the New Hampshire Conference in 1863, and was ordained deacon by Bishop Ames at the Conference held in Dover in 1865, and elder by Bishop Kingsley in St. Paul's Church, Manchester, in 1867. He was married in 1863 to Miss Jennie M. Davis, of Bow, who has been his faithful helper during all the years of his itinerancy, and who survives him. He served the following charges: Alsted and Gilsum, Marlboro and Pottersville, Hampton, Canaan Street, Winchester; First Church, Salem; Hinsdale, Marlboro again, Franklin Falls, Lancaster, Penacook, Claremont, and Hooksett. In 1895 he was granted a supernumerary relation at his own request. He was exceeding clear and very forcible in his preaching, never aiming at novelty or sensationalism. He held closely to the old truths of the Bible and the doctrines of Methodism. He read with discrimination the latest researches in ancient history, archæological discoveries and biblical criticism, yet found no better way of leading folks to the experiences of salvation than in preaching Christ and him crucified. Shortly after he became a supernumerary he removed to Manchester and built a home, near the First Methodist Church, in which he resided and where he died. He was a valuable assistant to the pastor as a wise counselor, and in the social meetings, which he always enriched by his clear and concise testimony. At the time of his decease he was almost entirely blind. His inability to read as of old was to him a great privation, yet he bore this and all his sufferings with great patience. Little by little his strength failed; disease sapped the vitality of his mortal body, when he quietly and peacefully passed to his last and best appointment, "where congregations ne'er break up, and Sabbaths never end." Funeral services were held in the First Methodist Episcopal Church, October 8. Interment was in the family acre at Grafton, N. H. The memory of the just is precious.

New England Conference.

Mark Trafton was born in Bangor, Me., August 1, 1810, and died at his home in West Somerville, March 8, 1901, aged ninety years, seven months, and eight days. He had been a familiar figure in New England Methodism for nearly seventy years, being at his death the oldest Conference preacher in New England, and save one, in America. He was the son of Major Theodore Trafton and Margaret (Dennet) Trafton. His father, for some years, was a prosperous mechanic, but later, through the combined influences of mercantile life and military associations, he became a confirmed inebriate. No wonder his son was the lifelong foe of the infamous liquor traffic. It embittered his whole life, as it has many an unfortunate man and woman since. He was converted at the age of eighteen, united with the Methodist Church, and very soon was appointed class leader. Two years later a call came from heaven to preach the Gospel. He immediately entered the school at Kent's Hill to prepare for his lifework. At the end of the first term the Methodist call came, "Learning is good, but saving souls is better." This call came from that glorious band of moral heroes who laid the foundation of Methodism in New England. Had these men waited for a college diploma, half of the people would have been in perdition before they had received it. Then the harvest was great and laborers were few. Dr. Trafton joined the Maine Conference in 1831. His first circuit was "Rumford and Bethel." It was only sixty miles around it, and he had to journey on horseback, often suffering from cold—almost nakedness, and scanty fare. But blot "Rumford and Bethel" from his itinerant experience and you have blotted out half his life. Rumford and Bethel was the theme of his latter-day recollections, more than a year spent in the halls of the National Congress. He used to say, "The world will never know its indebtedness to that race of saddlebaggers." During his ten years in Maine his subsequent appointments were: Orono, Castine, and Brunswick. The latter appointment he did not stay to serve, alleging, that while he had promised to go where he was sent, he did not promise to stay there. He had just married a wife—Eliza Young, of Pittston, Me.—who was the light of his home until God took her to himself in 1881, and the little society could not so much as pay their board. He left and took a temperance agency, and the last half of the year supplied the church at Belfast. The appointments following were Calais, Hallowell, Newcastle and Damariscotta Mills, Westbrook, then known as Saccanappa. In 1842 he was transferred to the New England Conference, and stationed at North Bennet Street, Boston. His subsequent appointments in this Conference were: Westfield, Cambridgeport, Westfield again, Worcester, North Russell Street, Boston; and Roxbury. After a single year of rest he served Westfield (third term.) It was during 1852, while at Westfield, that he was elected to represent the district in the Thirty-fourth Congress. His next appointment was County Street, New Bedford, Providence Conference. In 1861 he was stationed in State Street, Albany, N. Y. From Albany he returned to County Street (second term), after which he was sent to Chestnut Street, Providence. He had often been urged to leave the Methodist Church for other communions, but had resisted every solicitation. But now he yielded, located, and accepted a call to a Union Church in Springfield, Mass. One year, away from home, cured him. He resigned, returned to the Providence Conference, was readmitted, and stationed at Matthewson Street, Providence. In 1870 he was again transferred to the New England Conference and stationed at South Boston, then at Charlestown. Here a severe sickness prostrated him, since which time he did little effective service. It is true he served the church at Brookline for a year, and for a time at Wallaston. At the last-named place his wife died, and with her more than half his life went out. She had been his human guide—and such a guide, for wisdom, goodness, and patience, has blessed but few homes. Here ends his active ministerial life. We have only space for a few concluding remarks upon the character of this great and good man. As a preacher and a platform speaker he always held high rank. He had few equals. His style was attractive. His sermons were natural in arrangement, logical in argument, clear in statement, chaste in language, sparkling in wit, rich in personal incident, and impressive in delivery. There were no attempts at oratorical display to attract popular attention. As a reader of the Scriptures he had few, if any, superiors. He was a poet of no ordinary ability. Some of his poetic productions will compare well with Longfellow. He was purely a self-made man. The schools really did nothing for him. Without their aid he rose to a much greater eminence than many who have enjoyed every scholastic advantage. What thorough culture would have done for him is difficult to conjecture. He was a good man. In his early ministry he was blessed with many very gracious revivals. Notwithstanding his external peculiarities there was beneath it all a royal loyalty to God and truth. He held firmly to the last the saving truths of God's word. He said "When I am dead tell the people that this man did honestly the best he knew." And though he would not be regarded as a saintly man, he was true to his convictions of duty. As he drew near to the close of life his spirit became more and more mellow; there was manifested a tender, trustful spirit, and, without any symptoms of organic disease, he finally passed away without any apparent suffering in death. The New England Conference has but one Father Taylor and one Mark Trafton, and they will not likely ever be duplicated. He leaves two sons, one daughter, and three grandchildren, who love and revere his memory.

Edward Augustus Manning was born in Norwich, Conn., August 6, 1820, and died in Reading, Mass., February 5, 1901. He was a self-made man. He worked his way upward against discouragements which would have daunted one less energetic and resolute, and came at last to a position of great honor and usefulness. At the age of nineteen in a revival in the Methodist church in Norwich he was converted and united with the Church. Hearing the inward call to the work of the ministry, he employed his spare hours from labor in the printing office in studies preparatory to that work. He was licensed to exhort in July, 1842, and on October 15, 1842, he was licensed as a local preacher. In October of that year he entered Wilbraham Academy, having previously served for a time in the office of Zion's Herald, and remained there about three years, supporting himself by contributions to the press and by teaching. The habit of correspondence with the papers he kept up through the most of his life, under the signature of "Sagamore." In 1843 he joined the New England Conference, and was stationed at Asbury Church, Springfield. The list of his subsequent appointments for forty years will be found in the Minutes of New England Conference for 1900. As a preacher and pastor he held good rank. His sermons evinced careful preparation, much reliance on the word of God for argument and proof, and a strong desire, to his hearers. Appreciative audiences waited upon his ministry. He was the friend, counselor, and helper of all his flock, and endeared himself to all by his loving sympathy and care. Many will rise up in the great day and call him blessed. In his services on Zion's Herald, as assistant editor, from 1873 to 1875, his early experience as a printer gave him great advantage, and all his work lent added interest to that periodical. His record of twenty-nine years as Conference secretary is without a parallel among us. It is doubtful whether the record could be matched in any other Conference of the denomination. He was twice married. In Norwich, Conn., July 15, 1844, he was united to Miss Edna A. Geer, who became the loving and helpful companion of the years of his active ministry. She died at South Boston August 20, 1891. His second wife was Mrs. Sarah J. Grant, to whom he was married September 7, 1892, and who, after ministering most devotedly to the needs of the closing years of his life, is left to mourn his loss.

Troy Conference.

William W. Foster was born in Alford, Lincolnshire, England, September 8, 1820, and died in Round Lake, N. Y., July 4, 1900. When he was seven years of age the family emigrated to America and settled in the Province of Quebec, Canada. Converted at fourteen, he soon began to exercise his gifts in the social meetings of the Wesleyan Methodist church, in which for many years his father had been a faithful local preacher, and generations of his kindred ardent and honored members. When about nineteen his gifts were recognized as indicating the Gospel ministry as his life vocation. The superintendent of the circuit, the Rev. Malcolm McDonald, thereupon made an appointment for him in a schoolhouse in the neighborhood of his home, with the result that soon his name was placed upon the circuit plan. In 1843 he was sent to his first appointment, Stanstead, near the United States line, and for three years served laborious fields in the Montreal District. In 1846 he married Miss Frances Wheelock, of New York city, who was his faithful helpmeet for upward of half a century. The same year he entered the Troy Conference. In 1891 he took a superannuated relation, after forty-five years of effective labor. He settled at Round Lake, and was vice president of the Round Lake Association at the time of his decease. He was a man of a devout spirit and dignified deportment. His pulpit work to the last evinced the most careful preparation. He rested implicitly upon the "word of the Lord," and his preaching was a luminous presentation of its fundamental truths. He was remarkably familiar with the masters of Wesleyan theology. Such was his knowledge of theological teaching as derived from the fountain—the divine word—as expounded by Wesley, Fletcher, Clarke, Watson, and others of that early time, as to render him a worthy recipient of the degree of Doctor of Divinity, which was bestowed upon him in his later years. He was mighty in prayer. The Spirit vision, grasp, and fervor of the petitioner often filled the congregation with a sense of the nearness of the divine presence, and a conviction that the one who was pleading dwelt "in the secret place of the Most High." Undemonstrative in manner as he was, he yet, by his manifest spirituality, his blameless life, his clear preaching, and his faithful attention to the details of his pastorates, edified "the body of Christ" and won many souls to the Redeemer as the seals to his ministry. His end was peaceful. There survive him besides his bereaved companion, his three children, the Rev. W. W. Foster, Jr., D.D., president of Rust University; Mrs. Professor James Weld, of Saranac Lake; and Miss Mary L. Foster. The interment was in Hudson View Cemetery, Mechanicville, N. Y.

Aaron D. Heaxt was born in East Greenbush, N. Y., December 15, 1825, and died in Mechanicville, N. Y., August 10, 1900. When he was about seven years of age his parents moved to Albany. In this city he had the advantages of a superior select school, where he was not only instructed in the common English branches, but also in Latin and Greek. In these languages he became quite proficient. His parents united with the old Division Street Methodist Episcopal Church, and he became a regular attendant upon the Sunday school of the same. Upon the organization of a Sunday school in the south part of the city he became a member of it, and in 1843 united with Ferry Street Church, which had grown out of this Sunday school. He continued his relation to this church until he joined the Troy Conference, in 1863. After conversion he hungered for more education. He employed one of the most scholarly instructors in the city as a private tutor, pursuing such studies as would most aid him in his preparation for his contemplated ministry. In these days he manifested a love for English literature, and gave much leisure time to its study. In the Conference and by the churches he was soon recognized as a man of promise, and rose to a position of prominence. He was gladly welcomed to the churches to which he was appointed. For thirty years he served twelve churches, some of them leading churches in the Conference, and all of them with acceptability and a large measure of success. As a pastor he looked after all the varied interests of the churches. He was a most excellent preacher. His sermons were clear, cogent, and convincing. For six years he was presiding elder of Plattsburg District. In this office he was most laborious, attending more Quarterly Conferences than most of his colleagues deemed necessary. With good judgment and a sympathetic heart he looked after the work of the churches and the needs of his ministerial brethren. In 1899 he took a superannuated relation and made his home at Mechanicville. Here he was stricken with paralysis. During the months of his illness he exhibited the same cheerful spirit that marked his entire life, and found the Gospel he had preached to others an unfailing support. In 1888 he was a delegate to the General Conference. He was twice married: May 1, 1848, to Miss Belvidere Groves, of Albany, who died August 16, 1858; and November 9, 1859, to Miss Harriet M. Hand, who passed away February 9, 1890. Four children survive, one of them is Foster G. Heaxt, of the Troy Conference. The remains repose in the Albany Rural Cemetery.

Philadelphia Conference.

Henry Sigel Beals was born in Mattoon, Ill., July 10, 1862, and died in Glen Moore, Pa., April 5, 1900. At the age of ten he was converted to God in the Methodist Episcopal Church, but in deference to his parents' wishes, united with the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, of which they were honored and useful members. In 1889 his duties as a teacher called him to Humbolt, Ill., and while there he connected himself with the Methodist Episcopal Church. In the same year he was licensed to exhort, and the following year was licensed to preach. On August 23, 1890, he was married to Miss Maggie A. Wiese, who, with one child, survives him. In the fall of 1890 he entered DePauw University, and completed a seven years' course of study in five. The theological course was finished in 1893. September 23, 1894, he was ordained a local deacon. He applied for admission into the Philadelphia Conference, and was received on trial in March, 1895. His first appointment was to Boehm's Circuit, where he labored for two years. Successful revivals were held at three of the appointments. When the Conference was held at Bethlehem, in 1898, he was appointed to Glen Moore, Pa., and was reappointed each year until his translation. In June, 1898, he passed the examination of the United Brethren College at Labanon, Pa. On March 19, 1899, he was ordained an elder by Bishop Ninde. His pastorate at Glen Moore was owned of God. At least seventy souls were brought to Christ. He impressed one and all as being a man who was thoughtful, painstaking, and conscientious. He was quiet, unostentatious, and somewhat reserved, but he was a faithful, kind, true, and pure man. His sermons were helpful, instructive, and presented in a loving, Christlike manner. God honored his messenger, and he, though dead, yet speaketh, and his works do follow him. He was interred in the old home cemetery in Mattoon, Ill.

Henry Clay Boudwin was born in Philadelphia, February 7, 1861, and died in Tamaqua, Pa., December 31, 1900. His father died when he was ten years old, and he was left to the care of a godly mother, a member of the Protestant Episcopal Church. He was converted at Green Street Church, Philadelphia, and became a member of the old Central Street Methodist Episcopal Church of that city. His early religious zeal led him out into the work of the Salvation Army. Recognizing a call to the ministry, and realizing his need of better mental training for such a work, he left the Salvation Army and entered Pennington Seminary. Here he took high rank as a student, evincing sturdy perseverance and tireless industry. After a course of three years he entered the Philadelphia Annual Conference in the spring of 1885, after serving one year as a supply at Tower City. His appointments were: Tower City, Kennett Square, Elam, New London and Hickory Hill, Marshallton, Clifton, Prospect Park, and Tamaqua. On May 31, 1887, he was married to Miss Emma Stuck, of Tower City, who, with two boys, survives. As a man he was open and frank, modest, yet sturdy in his convictions and fearless in their expression; and as a minister he was a diligent student, fond of the poets, with a strong memory, and the power of apt quotation. His sermons were thoughtful, logical, rhetorical, and full of religious fervor. As a pastor he was successful, discreet, indefatigable, and everywhere built up the financial and spiritual interests of the churches he served. He was blessed in his ministry with frequent revivals, one of the most notable occurring at New London Circuit, in the first year of his ministry there, when over one hundred souls were soundly converted. Among his ministerial brethren he was trusted and trustworthy, an agreeable companion, a sturdy friend, an honored man. The funeral services were held in the church at Tamaqua. The interment was made in Mount Moriah Cemetery, Philadelphia.

William Purdon Brines was born in Philadelphia, Pa., December 17, 1868, and entered the life eternal from Philadelphia, April 11, 1900. In his early life he was actively identified with the Sunday school and congregation of the Broad Street Methodist Episcopal Church. Here his father was a class leader for many years, and his mother a devout worshiper. He was converted in the fourteenth year of his age. He at once united himself with the Church, and began an active Christian service. His call to the ministry was almost simultaneous with his conversion. To preach the Gospel became the dominant passion of his life; and to achieve this passion he devoted his whole time and energy. He was graduated from the Central High School of Philadelphia in 1889. A few months later he entered Dickinson Preparatory School at Carlisle as a divinity student. He completed the three years' course in two years, and was awarded the entrance prize to Dickinson College as a member of the class of '94. He completed a classical course at the University of Pennsylvania; entered Drew Theological Seminary, and graduated in the class of '96. He was licensed to preach in 1890, and in the spring of 1896 was admitted on probation in the Philadelphia Conference. He was ordained deacon in March, 1895, and elder in March, 1900. His first appointment was Wallingford, the next Ridley Park. His last appointment was to Sanctuary in the spring of 1898. His labors were greatly blessed of God. In the second year of his pastorate there, on June 8th, he was joined in wedlock to Miss Annie E. Wiggins. In less than nine months after he had led her a bride to the altar she followed his corpse to his tomb. Less than a month after his ordination as elder, an hour toward which his eyes had looked longingly for years—the point at which he hoped to begin an untrammeled ministry—his work was done. The character before us is one which it is soothing to remember. He was transparent. There was nothing of sham or pretense about him. His faith in his brother ministers was rare in quality and exceptional in degree. He believed only the best concerning them. He was untiring in his labors. He was greatly beloved by his people, for they recognized in him a true undershepherd. He yearned for the souls of men with a Godlike love. He went forth among his people in the power of brotherly love, and found it a divine armor. He sought for and saw something to love in all. "He did not break the bruised reed or quench the smoking flax." He had a strong interest in individuals. His illness was of brief duration. Less than four days after his last public service he was in heaven. The end came unexpectedly to all, but he was not taken by surprise. So passed from earth one of its purest, sunniest souls. He left the field early, but the fruits of his service abide. The funeral service was held in the Sanctuary Methodist Episcopal Church. The interment was in Mount Moriah Cemetery. A widow and a baby boy represent his surviving family.

Lewis Merwin Hobbs was born in Bloomfield, Delaware County, N. Y., November 30, 1824, and died February 7, 1901. He was converted January 1, 1838, and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church at Westfield Flats, N. Y. He was licensed to exhort in 1852, and received his license as local preacher in 1853. On September 3, 1851, he was united in marriage to Miss Barbara Miller, of Lancaster County, Pa., who passed into the "beyond" in 1890. They had eight children, of whom five survive. In 1894 he married Miss Rosetta Beals, of Stuyvesant County, N. Y., who survives. They had one child, who died in infancy. He was an energetic and indefatigable worker. To him in no small degree belongs the honor of the founding of the first State Normal School in Pennsylvania. During the civil war he was mustered as chaplain of the Third Regiment, and was discharged, with his regiment, in October, 1865. While in the service, stationed in Florida, the provisional governor of that State appointed him superintendent of public instruction, in which position he is recorded to have done good work. In 1873 was admitted as a member of the Philadelphia Conference. Prior to his admission he served as a supply at Safe Harbor, Hummelstown, Hamburg and Port Clinton. His appointments as a member of the Conference were as follows: Hamburg and Port Clinton, Jackson, Tannersville, Spragueville, Portland, Neshaminy and Bensalem, Cherry Valley, Lumberville. In 1896, on account of failing health, he was granted a supernumerary relation. He was a modest man, very quiet and undemonstrative, a plain, practical preacher and teacher of religion, and his ministry was successful. The funeral services were held in the Bensalem Church. The interment was in Stroudsburg cemetery.

William Colladay Robinson was born in Philadelphia, February 20, 1827, and from the same city entered upon the heavenly life, February 11, 1901. During a serious illness, which befell him at the age of nine, he was clearly converted and possessed even then a maturity of thought as to the character of God, of Christ, of the Holy Spirit, and of duty, which later he realized was attributable solely to the illumination of the Holy Spirit. In his seventeenth year he united with the Church, and after resisting the call to the ministry for a time, finally submitted and decided to enter the itinerant ranks. He at once entered upon a course of preparation for his life-work. In the spring of 1851 he united with the Philadelphia Conference, with which he had been connected a half century, lacking but a few weeks. He was assigned as a junior preacher to Strasburg Circuit, Bridesburg, and Port Richmond. At the Conference of 1855 he was appointed to Smyrna, Del. His subsequent charges were: Dover, Del.; Fifth Street and St. George's Churches, Philadelphia; Asbury Church, Wilmington, Del.; Twelfth Street, Philadelphia; Nazareth (now Thirteenth Street Church). From 1871 to 1873 he was presiding elder of the South Philadelphia District. He was a member of the General Conference of 1872. His subsequent appointments were: Wharton Street and Tabernacle Churches, Philadelphia; Madison Street, Chester; Duke Street (now First Church), Lancaster; Western (now merged in the Church of the Covenant), Philadelphia; De Kalb Street (now First Church), Norristown; Tioga, Pitman, Broad Street, Holmesburg. His last appointment was to Mount Pleasant Avenue Church, Philadelphia, from which he retired from the active ranks in 1897. Gracious revivals attended his ministry in nearly every appointment. He was a man of most striking presence. His natural courtliness and urbanity drew men to him, and greatly increased his influence in both the pulpit and pastorate. He was very systematic in all his ministerial duties, and was especially fond of children. In the homes of his people he was welcomed as a sympathetic and devoted pastor. No less than thirty-five young men, largely through his influence, have been placed upon Zion's walls to blow the Gospel trumpet. One of these was Dr. Charles J. Little, president of Garrett Biblical Institute, who received his first license from him during his pastorate at Fifth Street Church, Philadelphia. This interest in young men remained with him to the last. His closing years were spent in delightful fellowship with the First Methodist Episcopal Church, of Germantown, Philadelphia, which church, under its old name of Haines Street, gave him his first license to preach. His presence within the chancel of the new church was a benediction alike to pastor and people. Like the great majority of his brethren in the ministry he was not able to lay up treasure on earth. He made his best investment in a family of eight children—four sons and four daughters. Of these four sons and one daughter lived to pay their last loving tribute to a devoted father. These, with the devoted widow, rise up to call him blessed. The funeral services occurred on Thursday morning, February 14. After a brief service at his late home in Germantown the body was taken to the First Church, where the services were held. The interment occurred at Mount Moriah Cemetery, where all that is mortal awaits the resurrection morn.

John Wesley Rudolph was born in New London, Chester County, Pa., June 12, 1847, and closed his earthly career in Germantown, Philadelphia, February 15, 1901. At the age of thirteen he was converted, and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church at New London. The call of God to the ministry came to him early in his Christian life. He was licensed to exhort in 1866, and as a local preacher in 1868. When about nineteen years of age he was sent to supply an appointment; but, being distrustful of his abilities, and discouraged by one on his way to the charge, he returned home and tried to banish the impression of his call. Removing to Philadelphia, he engaged in mercantile pursuits, and connected himself with the Scott Methodist Episcopal Church. He filled the positions of local preacher, Sunday school superintendent, class leader, trustee, steward, and choir master, beloved and respected by all. On June 12, 1870, he was united in marriage to Miss Ella W. Hooper, of Baltimore, Md. She and a beloved daughter survive him. His business career was soon clouded by adversity. Twice his place of business was burned out; and these reverses, coupled with sad bereavement, in the loss of two beloved children, served to awaken him again to the call so clearly given in his early youth. An opening occurring at Raubsville, he accepted the appointment, closed out his business, and in 1874 began the work of a Methodist itinerant in earnest. Under his judicious and devoted service "the wilderness blossomed as the rose," and a barren field became a garden of the Lord. In the spring of 1876 he was admitted into the Conference on trial, and appointed to Richmond Circuit. In the spring of 1878 he was admitted to full connection and ordained deacon. He was ordained elder in 1880. The record of subsequent service is as follows: Lumberville and Lahaska, Avondale and Chatham, Upland, Delaware County; Fitzwater Street, Philadelphia; Bethany, Philadelphia; Falls of Schuylkill, Philadelphia; Tacony, Philadelphia. On Sunday morning, October 15, of his last year at Tacony, after preaching with his usual freedom, he experienced a light stroke of paralysis, from which he never fully recovered. At the last session of the Conference he was granted a supernumerary relation. He was a good, tender, devoted, and successful minister of Christ. At every charge he served many souls were converted and added to the Church. He led hundreds, possibly thousands, to Christ, and helped many to a higher and better life. The funeral services were held in St. Stephen's Church, Germantown. Interment was made in West Laurel Hill Cemetery.

Curtis F. Turner was born in Sussex County, Del., near the town of Laurel, and died December 21, 1900. In early youth he was converted and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church. Being deeply impressed that it was his duty to preach, he turned his attention to the study of theology. He was recommended to the Philadelphia Annual Conference in the year 1848. He was received on trial, and entered upon the work of the itinerating minister. He was in labors abundant, and gathered many into the fold. He filled some of the more important appointments in Philadelphia and elsewhere. For four consecutive years he was presiding elder upon what was then known as the Susquehanna District. In the year 1876 he was elected a delegate to the General Conference. At the close of the term of his service as presiding elder he reentered the regular pastorate, but in the year 1888 asked for and received the relation of a supernumerary, and continued in that relation until the year 1893. During this interim he acted as agent of the Philadelphia City Tract Society. The supernumerary relation was ill suited to a man of his ardent temperament and active mind. His family saw that his being out of the regular work of the ministry was incompatible with his nature and a grievous affliction to them, and by persistent effort they induced him to return to the pastorate, and he was appointed to the Cedarville Charge. This proved a delightful change for him. Though feeble in health, he did the work of an evangelist. He endeared himself to all the people in the village to such an extent that when he decided to relinquish his charge they urged that he and his family remain in the parsonage under a small rental, thereby affording them the use of a beautiful and otherwise desirable home for the weary and worn-out itinerant until death released him, in his seventy-seventh year, after nearly fifty years of active service in the work of the ministry. The death of Brother Turner occurred December 21, 1900. The funeral services were held in Cedarville Methodist Episcopal Church. The remains were interred in Mount Moriah Cemetery.

John R. Westwood was born in Chelmsford, Essex, England, December 8, 1844, and died in Philadelphia, December 31, 1900. When but ten years old he removed, with his father's family, to Australia, where, in 1863, he was soundly converted, and received into the Wesleyan Church. In 1865 he was licensed to exhort, and, in the following year, to preach. In 1867 he married Miss Carrie Bennett, a native of Leamington Spa, England. A year later this devoted couple came to the United States, and found a home in Philadelphia. Four sons and one daughter were born to them. The eldest son chose the vocation of his father, and is a member of the Philadelphia Conference. For three years he labored with great acceptability as a local preacher in Philadelphia. In 1870 he was admitted on trial in the New Jersey Conference. Two years later he was admitted into full connection, and ordained deacon. In 1874, he was ordained elder. His success in that Conference was most gratifying and encouraging. His first pastorate was at Warren Street, Trenton; then at Crosswicks, followed by Trenton Circuit, Eighth Street, Camden; Broadway, Salem; Central, Trenton; First Church, Millville; Third Street, Camden; St. Luke's, Long Branch. In one year at Millville he received on probation one hundred and eighty-five, and in the Eighth Street Church, Camden, in one series of special services two hundred and fifteen persons. In 1895 he was transferred to the Philadelphia Conference, and stationed at the Seventh Street Church, Philadelphia, where the same uniform results attended his ministry, and in 1899 he was stationed at the Thirteenth Street Church, from which he was called to his eternal reward. He brought to his work a pleasing personality, courteous manner, noble bearing, rich voice, musical ability, and a kindly, sympathetic nature. His faith was strong in God and his word. He enjoyed a convincing sense of the Saviour's indwelling. He had, through strong faith, mounted to the blessed heights of the religious life. With him this blessed grace was an experience rather than a theory. He was an excellent preacher—clear, spiritual, forcible. His themes were uniformly spiritual, his utterances sympathetic, and his presentation of truth attractive and convincing. His preaching was in demonstration of the Spirit and with power. He never failed to speak a good word for the Master. He was a faithful pastor. He knew his congregation, could call them by name, and interested himself in their joys and afflictions. His churches were well organized, and felt the influence of his earnest and devoted personality. The numerous departments in which his membership delighted to be useful reflected the pastor's great thought that the Christian life was to be expressed in diversified work, but all must be aglow with the heavenly Master's sympathy. His last illness was of short duration, but he was ready for his departure. The funeral services were held in the Thirteenth Street Church. The remains were deposited in Mount Vernon Cemetery.

Henry W. Millison was born in Philadelphia, October 4, 1866, and died in Westtown, Chester County, Pa., December 13, 1900. He was converted when seventeen years of age. He soon developed graces and usefulness that impressed him that he should preach the Gospel. His educational pursuits were thorough and extensive. He attended the public schools of Philadelphia, took a partial course in the Boys' High School in Philadelphia, was licensed to preach, and given work under the presiding elder, supplying Merion Square. He was afterward appointed as a supply at Delaware Water Gap. While preaching here he took a course at Hackettstown Collegiate Institute, from which he graduated in the class of '88. The following fall he entered Wesleyan University, and graduated with honors in the class of '92. He entered Drew Theological Seminary in the following fall, and graduted in the class of '94. In the same year he was admitted on probation in the Philadelphia Conference, and was appointed to Churchtown and Morgantown, where he served the full term of three years. He was then sent to Narberth, where he remained two years. He entered on a course of study in Hahnemann Medical College, Philadelphia, and while still a student was moved to Ridley Park, serving the church for two years. He was appointed at the last Annual Conference to Norwood. Here his health became impaired. Deceived as to his powers of endurance, he fell in the pulpit while endeavoring to preach. Tenderly he was carried to his home by loving friends. He left Philadelphia early in May for Colorado, and soon proceeded further West to Red Lands, Cal. Gradually growing weaker, he became convinced that the end was not far distant, and returned East to the old homestead in Westtown, Pa., thoroughly exhausted. On December 13, while sitting in an easy chair, his spirit took its flight. Funeral services were held in the old Goshen Baptist Meetinghouse near West Chester. He was a good young man, unassuming in his manner. He preached and lived that the doing of God's will was the very best possible. Surely his sun set while it was yet day, yet many felt the warm fervor of his life. The Church in his death has lost a valuable worker. He died in the triumphs of a living faith.

Northern New York Conference.

Charles Sheard was born in Bristol, England, October 3, 1854, and died in Richland Junction, N. Y., April 25, 1900, on his way home from the annual session of the Northern New York Conference. He came to this country in 1877, and shortly after entered Pennington Seminary, Pa., graduating in 1880. Before leaving England he was a lay preacher in the Congregational Church. On coming to Little Falls he was licensed to preach by the Herkimer District Conference in 1877; was admitted to the Conference on trial April 19, 1881; ordained deacon April 16, 1882; received in full connection April 13, 1883; and ordained elder April 12, 1885. His appointments were: Mohawk, Brocketts and Oppenheim, Springfield, Richfield Springs, Cape Vincent, Clayton, Canton. The last pastorate was one of the most successful of his ministry. Having just closed his five years' service with an appreciative people, he went to Conference cheerful and hopeful, and during the Conference session took a very active part in all of its proceedings. He was married to Frances Emily Scatcherd on July 5, 1882, at Batley, England, who, with eight children, is left to mourn her great loss. He was a good pastor, a very careful and thoughtful preacher of the word. His life was a "volume of manhood" and was greatly beloved by all who truly knew him. His whole conduct showed that he was actuated by a deep sense of duty and service, and sought the fulfillment of life's mission in an unselfish, straightforward, and fearless manner, endeavoring to be a Christ-man, a true follower of him who went about doing good. He was ambitious and hopeful of achieving much for him whom he loved and served. At the close of last Conference he received the congratulations of his brethren in the ministry on being appointed presiding elder of the St. Lawrence District. But after a few hours of intense suffering he left us to receive the congratulations of his loving Master, and hear the "well done, thou good and faithful servant, enter thou into the joy of thy Lord." The funeral services were held in Canton, N. Y., and the church was filled with a sad and sorrowing people. All that was mortal of our brother was laid away in Fairview Cemetery. But he is not there, but with Him who said, "Where I am there also shall my servant be."

Joseph Henry Lamb was born in Mexico, N. Y., January 1, 1815, and died in the town of his nativity June 8, 1900, at the advanced age of eighty five years. He was among the fruits of a wonderful revival of religion in Colosse, N. Y., in 1831. He was licensed to exhort in 1837, and to preach in 1839. He was received into the old Black River Conference at its sixth session, held in Rome, N. Y., in 1841, Bishop Soule presiding. Of the one hundred and seven members of that Conference but one remains—Byron Alden. To trace his ministry—from Liverpool, N. Y., in 1841, to Whitestown, in 1887—would be a record of ability, devotedness, and success. He was unobtrusive, but prompt, modest, and self-respecting. The virtues of a noble Christian man were well assembled in him, and well expressed. Ruggedness of thought and speech was qualified by sentiment, sympathy, and spirituality. Through his long ministry of more than half a century the intellectual, the accurate, the aged, the young, the careless, the solemn, felt the stimulus of his presence. His sermons were clear, logical, unique in form, and attractive in delivery. He preached as if by a recent commission from God which impelled him with a sacred boldness. Expository preaching had for him all the force of a habit. He had a rare voice—resonant, musical, effective, and persuasive. He served as presiding elder of Ogdensburg District in 1859–1862, and was justly credited with administrative skill, shrewdness in management, sagacity, judicious treatment of preachers and churches, breadth of vision, and self-reliance. Superannuation came, however, but without bringing a trace of cynicism. Indeed he never grew old. He was an incarnated sunbeam. In every manly soul he found a congenial comrade. He was twice married, first, in 1838, to Miss Laura Barnes, with whom he spent sixteen years of happy wedded life, and afterward, in 1855, to Mrs. Arvilla Loveys, who, thirty-seven years later, passed on beyond. After a sojourn of a few years in Utica, N. Y., this venerable man of God, now homeless and childless, wended his way to the town of his nativity to spend the evening of his days amid the scenes of his childhood. His body rests in the cemetery at Herkimer, N. Y., by the side of the wife of his early years, borne thither and buried by the hands of his fellow-laborers.

Merrit Marcus Rice was born near Camden, Oneida County, N. Y., January 1, 1825, and died at his home in Henderson, Jefferson County, August 22, 1900. He was converted in early life and felt a call to the ministry. He attended the Falley Seminary, at Fulton, N. Y., and there prepared himself for his lifework. He was licensed to exhort November 18, 1843; to preach at Camden, N. Y., in the spring of 1847; admitted June 26, 1852; deacon, June 27, 1852; full connection, June 2, 1854; elder, June 22, 1856. His appointments were as follows: Syracuse, New Haven, Sackets Harbor, Henderson, Ellisburg, Malone, Fort Covington, Boonville, Trenton and Russia, Steuben, Constableville, Brownville, Rodman, Evans Mills, Theresa, Depauville, Heuvelton, Henderson. He was appointed a delegate of the Christian Commission in 1863, and stationed at Warrenton, Va., for six weeks. On August 2, 1859, he was united in marriage with Miss Lucinda B. Smith, who survives him. After closing the work as a traveling preacher he built a home in Henderson, N. Y., and there he spent his last days in peace. He was always in touch and harmony with the pastor. His godly advice fell like a heavenly benediction upon all. To know him was to love him. He lived in the sunshine of human experience. He had a genial disposition and a kind and sympathetic nature. He preached with his usual freedom Sunday evening, August 19, as was his custom once in two weeks in the absence of the pastor. He was taken ill Monday morning, and quietly fell asleep in death while sitting in his easy chair about four o'clock on Wednesday afternoon. He rests from his labors and his works follow him.

Morrell Theodore Hill died at his home in Adams, N. Y., October 8, 1900. He was born in Western, N. Y., March 25, 1827. When a young man he was thoroughly converted, and shortly afterward was called of God to preach. He was licensed to exhort in 1855, and to preach in 1858. He was admitted on trial in the old Black River Conference June 8, 1858; was received into full connection and ordained deacon in 1860, and was ordained an elder in 1862. He was a modest man, unpretentious and unassuming, seeking neither preferment nor position, anxious only to be of service to God and men wheresoever the Church might appoint him. On every charge which he served he had a revival, which fact is sufficient testimony of his fidelity and earnestness. His appointments were: Lee Center, Brocketts and Stratford, Forestport, Constableville, Champion, Mannsville (Ellisburg), Lorraine, Henderson, Pillar Point, Sackets Harbor, Pamelia, New Bremen, Gilbert's Mills. He served in the Christian Commission seven months in the year 1864 at Harper's Ferry and Fortress Monroe, and served Mannsville as a supply one half year in 1883. He was twice married, the first time to Miss Julia Halleck, of Western, Oneida County, N. Y., March 31, 1847, and to his second wife, Miss Jennie M. Bartlett, on September 25, 1872, who now mourns his loss. In his last illness, which was a protracted one, he was greatly sustained by the presence of the Master, and, though at times he suffered great pain, he never murmured, but said repeatedly that God's grace was sufficient for him, and that he was leaning on the everlasting arms. His end was blessed and peaceful, and he passed in triumph to "where beyond these voices there is peace." He was a strong, forcible preacher, a close student of the word, and a man to whom the great veritics of religion were the only realities. He preached a full salvation, such as he had himself experienced, and his preaching was always in demonstration of the spirit and with power. He was a good man, full of faith and of the Holy Ghost. The funeral services were conducted at his home on Wednesday, October 10. Interment was made in the beautiful cemetery at Western, N. Y, There we laid him to rest, our brother, our friend, in sure and certain hope of a glorious resurrection.

Ebenezer Arnold was born in Lenox, Mass., on the bank of the Housatonic River, in the month of May, 1816. Soon after his birth his parents moved to Mount Pleasant, N. Y., where his childhood and youth were passed in the usual experience of a farmer boy. At the age of eighteen he was converted and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church. Early in his Christian experience he was deeply impressed that he ought to preach the Gospel. After being licensed as a local preacher he labored over a year doing pioneer work in Michigan on the Coldwater Circuit. He was received on probation in the Indiana Conference in 1838. During the second year of his Conference probation he was transferred to the Black River Conference. Thenceforward, until the infirmities of age prevented, he was pastor, principal of the Umpquar Academy in Oregon, superintendent of missions in California, corresponding secretary of the Oregon State Temperance Society, director in vocal culture at one time in Syracuse University, and for several years missionary among the St. Regis Indians, and at the St. Lawrence French Indian Mission. The same tireless evangelistic zeal and revival success that had marked his earlier years continued to attend him as a Conference itinerant. He lived to fill thirty-three appointments, many of which were leading ones, while all were important, and nearly all were blessed through his labors. He was pastor of our church in Mexico in 1851-52, and built the present church edifice. He organized about twenty societies, some of which are among the strongest within the bounds of the Northern New York and the Central New York Conferences. As a preacher he was a profound theologian and a great sermonizer. Deliberate in pulpit utterance, he was yet strong and sometimes almost majestic in the fervor and power of his mighty argument, urgent appeal, and persuasive tenderness. He had a fine presence, a winning manner, a mellifluous voice, and, if we measure the Gospel preacher by results, he was surely great. He loved truth and hated shams. His cultivated and thoughtful mind and sound judgment were devoted to the one work of the Christian ministry. His chief ambition seemed to be to win souls to Christ, and with them to build up a strong, aggressive Methodism. Faithful to the last, and conscious up to his expiring moment, with a heavenly expression upon his countenance, he fixed his gaze first upon one, then upon another, as we stood about his dying bed, then lifting his eyes upward and raising his right hand, he exclaimed, "O, angels, angels!" and with these words upon his lips he passed into the blessedness of the unseen world so close at hand.

Oliver Perry Pitcher was born in Martinsburg, Lewis County, N. Y., August 19, 1821, and was a lineal descendant of Andrew Pitcher, who settled in Dorchester, Mass., in 1633. He was converted at the age of twenty-two, and was given an exhorter's license the same year, 1843. He graduated from what is now the Boston University School of Theology in 1851, and was shortly thereafter united in marriage to Miss Jane M. Danforth, of Bristol, N. H. In 1852 he was admitted on trial as a traveling preacher in the Black River Conference, received into full connection, and ordained deacon in 1854, and admitted to elder's orders in 1856. His first appointment was at Henderson, where he buried his beloved wife and firstborn son. In 1854 he was appointed pastor of our church at Carthage, and in 1856 was united in marriage to Miss Sarah Putnam Benton, of Watertown, N. Y., who, with their son, the Rev. John Pitcher, of the Central New York Conference, survives him. His later appointments are as follows: Rodman, Black River, Clayton, Embargo Street, Rome; St. Johnsville. November 10, 1862, he entered upon missionary work in the army under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association of Washington, D. C., and continued in the same during the Conference years 1863-65; 1866-67 agent of Washington, D. C., Bible Society. His subsequent fields of labor were: Champion, Port Leyden, Cape Vincent, Mannsville, supernumerary, superannuated. He supplied Fisherville (New Hampshire Conference) in 1849, Gottstown Center (same Conference) 1850, and till November, 1851; balance of Conference year New Ipswich; also served in the Christian Commission at different times during the war. Wherever he went a revival was sure to follow, and many thousands were brought to Christ during the ministry of this devoted servant of God. He was a clear thinker, a forceful and earnest preacher, and an indefatigable pastor. During the twenty-one years of his enforced retirement from the active work of the ministry he was in labors more abundant in the church at Adams, teaching a Sunday school class, leading class and prayer meetings, and preaching for the pastor as occasion demanded. In his last sickness he was greatly cheered and comforted by the presence of the Holy Spirit, and lived daily "as seeing Him who is invisible." A short time before his death, as he realized the inroads that disease was making, he said, with radiant face, looking up at the writer, "Though conquered, yet I am victor." As the holy Sabbath day was fading into eternity his triumphant spirit passed into the presence of the "King, eternal, immortal, invisible." The funeral services were in his home at Adams. The interment was at Elmwood Cemetery, Adams. His memory is gratefully cherished by all who knew him, and to know him was to love him.

Washington Conference.

J. H. Burley triumphantly passed from earth to the life immortal at his home in Bristol, Tenn., February 5, 1901. He became a member of the Washington Conference in 1870, and labored diligently and faithfully as a man of God. His theme was, "We preach Christ Jesus the Lord and ourselves your servants for Jesus' sake." Under his ministry many souls were converted, and the Church greatly built up in the faith of the Lord Jesus. He labored for the Church and for God until advancing years brought physical weakness, which caused him to retire from the active work of the ministry. If it be true that a soul saved through the instrumentality of a servant of God will be a star in his crown in the mansions of rest, he has many stars in his crown in the kingdom of heaven. He was appointed to the following charges: Mount Pleasant, Lexington, Rockbridge, Russell, Salem, Christianburg, Draper's Valley, Newbern, Bristol, Marion, Mount Airy. In 1887 he took a superannuate relation, in which he continued until called to the "better country."

Thomas Cooper was born August 22, 1855, and died in Shendun, Va., March 15, 1901. He joined the Washington Conference March 8, 1893, and filled the following appointments with great acceptability: Buena Vista, Mount Airy, Saint Marys, Richmond, Mount Zion, Baltimore, and Shendun, the latter being his last appointment. During the early part of this year he met with a serious accident, resulting in lockjaw, which occasioned his death after an illness of about two weeks. His last words, to his wife, were: "Everything is all right, I am going home to live forever with Jesus. I will not be able to answer the roll call here, but will answer it in heaven." The remains were brought to Churchville, Md., his former home, and carried to Asbury Methodist Episcopal Church, where the funeral services were conducted by the Rev. W. H Jones, of Abingdon, who preached an appropriate sermon from the words: "Well done, thou good and faithful servant, thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy lord." His body rests in Asbury Methodist Episcopal Cemetery.

M W. Robinson was born December 25, 1855, and died in Brownsville, Loudoun County, Va., in great peace, February 13, 1901, aged forty-five years. His funeral service was held in the Methodist Episcopal church of that place. He joined the Washington Conference in 1882 and filled the following appointments: Chambersburg and Hancock, Luray, Tolcott, Red Sulphur Springs, Leesville, Rocky Mount, Great Mills, Woodlawn, Lincoln. He deeply loved the work of the Master, and was eager to preach to the very last. When, on account of the loss of his power of speech he could no longer use his voice in the proclamation of the good tidings of salvation, he went home to prepare for the summons, "Come up higher." He has gone to swell the number of our Conference roll in heaven. A sorrowing widow survives him.

E. T. Borgus died June 20, 1900, after an illness of several months. His funeral service was held in Pleasant Grove Methodist Episcopal church, Va., June 23, and was conducted by Rev. W. H. Gaines. He entered the work of the Conference in 1894, and served the following charges: Mountvale, Point Pleasant, Montgomery, and Harrisburg. He was a Christian gentleman, an intelligent and energetic preacher, a loving husband, and a kind father. He was resigned to the will of God, and met death like a brave soldier of the cross of Jesus. When nearing the vale of death he said his work was done, and passed into the land of eternal peace and rest. He leaves a wife and three children to mourn their loss.

Nathaniel Jackson was born in Prince George County, Md., December, 1813, and died in April, 1900. In early manhood he was licensed as a local preacher, and in 1867 joined the traveling connection in the Washington Conference. His appointments were as follows: Saint Marys, Abingdon, Alexandria, Bowie Circuit, Newbern, Abingdon again, Lexington, Bladensburg, Prince George. He took a superannuated relation in 1882. As a minister of the Gospel he was conscientious and painstaking. To him the Bible was an unerring guide, and the foundation on which he built all his religious faith. Many souls owe their conversion to the faithful ministry of this servant of God. His sickness was borne with Christian fortitude and patience. His controlling passion was the saving of souls and the advancement of the Redeemer's kingdom. He loved the Church and was interested in her welfare. A great man has fallen in Israel. At his request Rev. N. M. Carroll, presiding elder of the South Baltimore District, preached his funeral sermon, selecting for his text 2 Tim. 4. 7. A number of ministers were present and took part in the service.

Philip Brown fell asleep in Jesus in the month of May, 1900, in the city of Philadelphia, Pa. Brother Brown was one of the early fathers of the Washington Conference, having joined it in 1877, three years after its organization. His appointments were: Rockbridge, Augusta, Linganore, Strasburg, Newmarket, Spring Creek. In 1880 he became a superannuate. He gave many years of faithful service to the Church, preaching the word "with signs following." He loved the Church of his choice, her doctrines, and her polity. The word of God was his chart, the spirit of God his guide; he was a self-sacrificing preacher. His early ministry began when times were hard and churches few in number, but he went forth bravely leading the way. Hundreds of conversions attested the fidelity of his labors. He needs no monuments of granite or tablets of brass to perpetuate his memory. His noble Christian life and his heroic Christian work will live until the dawn of that glorious day that will bring eternal joy to the redeemed.

Wilmington Conference.

Harald G. Boivie was born in Stockholm, Sweden, May 27, 1855. In September, 1870, he came to America, and changed his name from Booberg to Boivie. The first seven years in this country he associated almost entirely with the American people, and became a member of the American Lutheran Church in Brooklyn, N. Y. In November, 1864, he attended a series of revival meetings, held in the Fleet Street Methodist Episcopal Church, Brooklyn, and became gloriously converted. In the year 1885 he joined the Swedish Methodist Episcopal Church, of Minneapolis, Minn. The following year he was appointed as a supply at Maiden Rock, Wis. He subsequently served several charges in the States of Minnesota, Wisconsin, and Michigan, namely: Murdock and Ortonville, Florence, Crystal Falls, and Escanaba. In 1892 he moved to Pontiac, R. I., and in 1893 joined the New England Southern Conference on probation. At the same time and place he was ordained elder, having been ordained deacon in 1890. In Pontiac he served faithfully for four years. He was then transferred to the East Maine Conference, and stationed in 1896 at Monson, Me., where he remained four years. In 1900 he was transferred to the Wilmington Conference and stationed at Wilmington, whence, on October 15, he was summoned to his reward in heaven. He was in feeble health during his pastorate in Wilmington, nevertheless he maintained his position as an earnest Christian soldier in the army of the Lord Jesus Christ. Brief as was his service in his new field of labor he won the hearts of the people not only for himself, but for the cause of his Master. He will long be remembered by many as a good Christian minister, an earnest expounder of the word of God, and a fine Gospel singer. His last discourse was from the text, "Get thee out of thy country, and from thy kindred, and from thy father's house, unto a land that I will show thee." The funeral was held in the church of which he had been the pastor. His body was laid at rest in the Brandywine Cemetery, awaiting the morning of the resurrection.

Benjamin F. Price was born at Harmony Mills, Del., in 1816, and died in Elkton, Md., March 22, 1901, during the session of the Wilmington Conference. He was the oldest member of the Wilmington Methodist Episcopal Conference, and is said to have been the oldest Methodist minister in point of active service in the United States. He possessed remarkable energy, and was on the street not many days previous to his death. He was a kindly, courteous gentleman and had many friends. When sixteen years of age he went to Elkton. Four years later he was licensed to preach, and became a member of the Philadelphia Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church. He continued in this Conference until the Wilmington Conference was formed thirty-three years ago. His first charge was at Denton, Md., in 1836. His subsequent appointments were: Kent, Centerville, Dover, Del.; Asbury, Philadelphia; Middletown, Millington, Easton, Centerville again, Dorchester Circuit, Princess Anne, Talbot, Newark, Delaware City, Minersville, Mauch Chunk, Norristown, Central, Philadelphia; Easton, Milford, Elkton, North East, Cecilton, Greensboro, Delaware City again, Kent Island, Queenstown, Madeley, Wilmington, Christiana, Hopewell, Stockton. In 1895 he was granted a superannuated relation and retired from active work. He removed to Elkton, where he had since resided with his wife. At Hopewell Church, in Cecil County, which was one of his last charges, a memorial window has been placed in the church in his memory. He was married three times, and is survived by four children of his first wife. In 1887 he married Miss Husband, of Wilmington, who survives him. The funeral services were held in the Elkton Methodist Episcopal church. The remains were taken to Still Pond for interment.

Charles P. Swain was born near Knowls Cross Roads, in Sussex County, Del., June 2, 1859, and died in his parsonage home on Deal's Island, May 22, 1900. In the fall of 1875 he sought the Lord. With his conversion same the call to preach the Gospel. This was so clear and convincing that he buried all other ambitions and dedicated himself to the work of the ministry. He was licensed to preach at Ellendale, January 1, 1887, and was soon thereafter appointed to Hooper's Island, where he toiled three years. His success here proved that he was in his divinely appointed sphere. In 1891 Crapo was his field of labor. Here he was very successful. His next field was Frankford, Del., which felt the quickening impulse of his tireless energy. In the spring of 1895 he was appointed to Tangier Island, where he served a five-year term. This was the crowning of his ministry. A new church was built and nearly paid for. He conceived the enterprise and brought it to completion. It will stand as an enduring monument to his memory. When that society recently changed the name of the church from "Lee's Chapel" to the "Swain Memorial," it was a fitting recognition of the labors of one who well-nigh gave his life that this enterprise might be consummated. His ministry at Deal's only lasted a few weeks. But in that short period he made for himself a large place in the affections of the people. On May 5 he was compelled to take his bed, never to enter the pulpit again. On Tuesday, May 22, in the silent watches of the night, he relinquished the struggle, and opened his eyes to behold the unclouded glories of heaven. The intelligence of his death was a great shock to the people of Deal's. Every home was filled with sorrow. Seldom has a minister of our Conference compressed more permanent achievement into thirteen years than did our departed brother. He threw himself with passionate ardor into the work of the Church. He visited from house to house, prayed with the people, and entreated them to flee the wrath to come. He always had a message of consolation for the sorrowing. He had an unusual insight into the Holy Scriptures. He was a great Bible preacher, and his versatility in science, art, and literature enabled him to illuminate the word until it stood out in simplicity and beauty before his hearers. "He was a good man, full of the Holy Ghost and of faith, and much people were added unto the Lord." He was an uncompromising foe of the liquor traffic, and in every reform employed both tongue and pen to arouse the people to determined action. He was without vanity and unholy ambition. He would never stoop to questionable methods to advance his personal interests. His life conspicuously illustrated the words of the Master: "If thine eye be single, thy whole body shall be full of light." All of his splendid powers were unreservedly consecrated to God. He was ordained deacon at Milford in 1890, and elder at Wilmington in 1892. On March 1, 1881, he was married to Miss Martha H. Messick, who, with eight children, survives him. Impressive funeral services were held in Deal's Island church, after which loving hands tenderly laid his remains to rest in Deal's Island cemetery to sleep till the morning of the resurrection of the just.

David I. Waddell was born in Preston, Md., July 16, 1852, and died at Westminster, Md., December 20, 1900. His father was an exhorter and class leader in the Methdist Episcopal church at Preston. September 14, 1870, he was converted and joined the Church, and commenced his lifework for the Master. It was not long before the Church recognized his talent and gave him work. First he was elected superintendent of his home Sunday school, and shortly after was licensed as an exhorter. August 17, 1872, he was licensed to preach. Believing that he was called of God to go out in the active work of the itinerancy, he applied to the Church for work, and was assigned as junior preacher of Lakesville Circuit in 1873. July 24, 1873, he was married to Miss Deborah R. Thomas, of Bethlehem, Md. In 1874 he was admitted on trial into the Wyoming Conference. Here he spent six years in active service, and in the spring of 1880 was transferred to Wilmington Conference and stationed at Red Lion and Glasgow, Del. Here his real work for the Wilmington Conference began, and since that time he has served the following charges: Red Lion, Christiana, Appoquinimink, Berlin, Gumboro, Nanticoke, Galestown, Madeley, Lincoln, Felton, Millington. In March, 1900, he was appointed to Millsboro, Del. This was a great disappointment to him, but he went to his charge to do his best. His sermons were well received, but he was not able to continue the hard work of a circuit like that, and, in the midst of his usefulness he was stricken with paralysis. From this he partially rallied, however, and decided to fill his appointment at Dagsboro, September 2, against the doctor's protest. While in the pulpit attempting to preach he reeled, and would have fallen but friendly hands helped him down and into a carriage, and he was taken home, never to enter a pulpit again. The dread disease paralysis had fixed its deadly grasp upon him. He was removed to a hospital in Baltimore. Here he rallied somewhat, and, on being removed to the new home in Winchester, continued to improve for a time, but very soon passed into a dreamy state, from which he did not arouse until his eyes opened on the glories of the world beyond. The funeral was held December 22. After a word of prayer at the residence the body was taken to the Methodist Episcopal church in Westminster, where a more formal service was held. The remains were laid away to rest in the cemetery to await the resurrection of the just. The work and worth of our deceased brother are well understood by the members of the Wilmington Conference. Fond of study, he applied himself with diligence to various branches of learning. Not only was he well drilled in the Bible and in the theology of his Church, but he made quite a study of medicine, and held the degree of Doctor in Medicine as well as Doctor in Divinity. His preaching was logical and was above the average in lucidity and power. As a husband he was gentle and loving. As a father he was kind, and was almost idolized by his children. He maintained family prayer until he became so weak that it was necessary to assist him to his knees for prayer, and to assist him from his knees when the prayer had ended. The faithful wife, who had been his companion and helpmeet from the days of their childhood, and six children mourn their loss.

New Jersey Conference.

Jacob B. Graw was born in Rahway, N. J., October 24, 1832, and died in Camden, N. J., February 18, 1901. He was early convinced of his need of salvation, and was converted to God in his fifteenth year. In 1853 he was licensed as an exhorter, and in 1854 was licensed to preach, and appointed to Chatham, N. J. In 1855 he was admitted on trial in the New Jersey Conference and appointed to Stapleton, to which charge he was reappointed in 1856. In 1857 he was admitted to full connection and ordained deacon. On the oganization of the Newark Conference it was his lot to remain in the New Jersey Conference. In 1857 he married Miss Isabella Stillwell, of Stapleton, Staten Island, who for forty-six years was his colaborer in the Gospel work. In 1859 he was ordained elder. His subsequent appointments were: Haddonfield, Trinity, Bridgeton; here he remained only a few months. The civil war breaking out, he was appointed chaplain of the Tenth Regiment of New Jersey Volunteers. After his return he served South Street, now First Church, Salem; Lambertville, and Centenary Church, Long Branch. In 1871 he was appointed presiding elder of Burlington District, and four years later of New Brunswick District. In 1878–79 he was pastor of Third Street Church, Camden; from 1881 to 1884 he was presiding elder of Camden District, and from 1885 to 1890 presiding elder of Trenton District. From 1891 to 1895 he was again pastor of Third Street, called First Church, Camden. In 1896–97 pastor of First Church, Trenton; in 1898 he was appointed presiding elder of Bridgeton District, continuing to the time of his death. Thus were forty-seven years spent in an eventful ministry. Of these years twenty-six were spent in the direct pastorate, twenty as presiding elder, and one as chaplain in the army. His pastorate included the leading churches in the Conference, and was uniformly successful. As a preacher Dr. Graw attained high rank; his sermons were clear and convincing expositions of our faith, well calculated to build up his devout hearers, and lead them to higher attainments in the Christian life, while at the same time they were earnest and faithful exhortations to the unsaved to flee the wrath to come. Gracious revivals frequently blessed his ministry; many hundreds of souls were hopefully converted to God. The churches which he served still hold him in loving remembrance. His pastorate was also attended with great material prosperity. His twenty years in the presiding eldership gave him supervision, in turn, of every district in the Conference. He possessed executive ability of a high order; he was sagacious, resourceful, and tactful; he knew both preachers and churches, and this, with a kindly and genial manner, made him popular with both, who felt that their interests were safe in his hands. He was eight times elected delegate to the General Conference. His General Conference services made him widely known in the Church, and commanded the respect of bishops and leading ministers and laymen. His voice and vote in the General Conference were always against every proposition which did not commend itself to him as tending to strengthen the Church. He fully believed that Methodism was the nearest approach to the ideal New Testament Church, and believing this, he clung tenaciously to all that belonged to it, its Discipline, its Hymnal, and its ritual, as factors tried and approved. In 1870 he was elected trustee of Pennington Seminary, and continued in that office until his death. In 1875 he was elected trustee of Dickinson College, in which office he continued until death. In 1874 the bishops selected him for the Book Committee to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Rev. Isaiah D. King, and at the ensuing General Conference in 1876 he was elected for the full quadrennium to that important office. In 1880 the General Conference elected him a member of the Board of Managers of the Missionary Society and of the Board of Church Extension. In his own Conference he was an active supporter of the several camp meeting associations, giving time, means, and effort to promote their efficiency. The temperance reform movement immediately enlisted his active cooperation, and he preached, lectured, and wrote unceasingly in its advocacy. In his personal life he was unostentatious, but devout. His final sickness was not protracted. He returned home from his district work Monday, February 4, intending to return in the afternoon, but was unable to do so. In a few days he was compelled to call in his physicians, who did for him all that medical skill could do, but in vain. The carbuncle, the primary cause of his illness, developed other difficulties, before which even his strong constitution was compelled to give way, and a few minutes before one o'clock Monday morning, February 18, he passed on to his eternal reward. His beloved wife and three sons and three daughters survive him. The funeral services were held in the First Church, Camden. More than two hundred ministers and many representative laymen were present. Interment was in the cemetery at Beverly, N. J.

Peter Y. Calder was born in the city of New York, January 12, 1814, and died in Palmyra, N. J., December 5, 1900. He was converted in his youth, and was abundant in labors as exhorter and local preacher. In 1838 he married Miss Hannah W. Justice, who, with their only child, survives him. At the Conference of 1852 he was ordained a local deacon, and in 1853 was admitted on trial to its membership, and served the following charges: Bloomingdale, Chapel Hill, Lawrenceville, Englishtown, Bass River, Bridgeboro, Hedding, Willow Grove, Auburn, Hedding again, Gloucester, and Pennville. The last twenty-five years of his life were spent in Palmyra as a supernumerary and superannuated minister. He took an active part in church work, faithfully filling all vacancies occurring in the pulpit, visiting the sick, seeking the wandering, and encouraging the weak. His favorite work was, as he expressed it, to "peddle sunshine." On the first Sabbath in December he attended class meeting, and also assisted in the administration of the Lord's Supper. The following Wednesday he was suddenly prostrated, and was taken to his eternal home. The funeral services were held in the Epworth Church, Palmyra, and his body was laid to rest in the village churchyard.

Jacob T. Price was born in Dennisville, N. J., March 15, 1818, and died in Seaville, April 28, 1900. At the age of sixteen he was converted to God at a revival meeting in Dennisville. In February, 1838, when only twenty years of age, he was licensed to exhort. Three years later he was commissioned to preach the Gospel. He was made a class leader in 1836, when but eighteen years of age. While yet an exhortor he was invited to preach in the Lutheran church at Friesburg, and the first and second sermons of his ministry were preached in a church of another denomination. Their impression was so favorable, and his exercises elsewhere so increased it, that when the time came for a public license it was not only given him, but given with the understanding that it was expected he would give his whole life to the ministry of the word in the regular work of the Conference. Timidity held him back, however, and while all the time actively laboring in the Gospel, yet he never consented to assume a pastorate until 1861, when he was made supply for Hancock's Bridge, and three years later at Etna for two years more. In 1866 he was admitted on trial in the Conference, and in 1868 received in full connection, and in 1870 he was ordained an elder. The ministry at Hancock's Bridge gave forty additions to the church, at Etna one hundred. His first appointment by the Conference, in 1866, was Tuckahoe. The next was Jacksonville, where one hundred and forty gave themselves to the Church. His subsequent appointments were: Squan Village, Camden Mission, Stockton, Pedericktown, and Fairton, at which time, in consequence of health broken by excessive labor, he retired from the active ministry and settled in his native county, where he continued in labors for his Master. He was an earnest, practical believer in camp meetings, and was rarely absent from one. Upon the retirement of Hon. Jesse Diverty from the charge of the Seaville Camp Meeting he consented to assume its official oversight, and made it a successful feature in Methodistic history. He was devoted to his family. Twice married, his companions always received the most thoughtful and loving care. He absorbed himself in his children. He gave a son, J. Emory Price, of the New York Conference, to the ministry. He died as he had lived, and his life is so cherished a memory of the people that being dead he yet speaketh.

Samuel Newlings Asay was born in Wrightstown, N. J., February 14, 1833, and died in Saratoga Springs, N. Y., in April, 1900. In 1844 he was converted, and became a student at Pennington Seminary. In 1861 he was licensed as an exhorter, and in 1863 as a local preacher. In 1864 he joined the New Jersey Conference on trial, and in 1866 was received into full membership. He served Lebanon Mission, Bricksburg, Port Monmouth, Marlton, and Auburn. Immediately after his reception into the Conference his health failed and he was granted a supernumerary relation, which was continued until the close of his life. His life was one continuous struggle with suffering and poverty. Greater than even his suffering was the feeling of inability to perform the work of his life mission in saving souls through the regular pastorate, a feeling only alleviated by continuous assistance to the pastors where, for the time, he was located. God had given him for a helpmate a woman among a thousand, and children for whom any man might praise him. It was a great comfort to him to have his dear children come and be with him as he neared the heavenly city, and it was also a blessing to them. On his last Sabbath on earth he asked them to sing "Home of the soul," "Sweet bye and bye," "Jesus, Lover of my soul," "Nearer, my God, to thee," and, finally, Dr. Stokes's "Hover o'er me, Holy Spirit." He was conscious to the last. When asked if Jesus was precious, he answered, "O yes!" and his spirit entered the eternal city of God.

Joseph B. Turpin was born in Camden, N. J., July 5, 1840, and died in the Methodist Episcopal Hospital, Philadelphia, April 17, 1900. In early life he was orphaned. He removed to Salem, N. J., where he was converted and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church. He felt the call to preach, and joined the New Jersey Conference in 1863, and remained in the effective ranks until 1900, when he took a supernumerary relation. He served for one year as financial agent of the Preachers' Aid Society of New Jersey Conference, of which he was secretary and treasurer for over twenty years. He carefully and prudently managed the business of that society, so that all its affairs were found in good condition when the books were passed over to his successor elected after his death. He was married in June, 1867, to Miss Phœbe Anna Jemison, who shared with him the joys and trials of the itinerancy until her death, in 1881. In October, 1884, he was married to Miss Mary Antrim, of Pemberton, N. J., who survives him, with their four children. The following is a list of his appointments: Sicklertown, Hammonton, Warren Street, Trenton; Beverly, Union Street, Trenton; New Egypt, Port Elizabeth, Glassboro, Bethel, Crosswicks, Elmer, Pennsgrove, Pemberton, Woodbury, Trinity, Millville; Toms River, Gloucester City, Absecon, Sharptown, and Cranbury. In all these charges he did faithfully the work of a minister. In some of them very extensive revivals attended his ministry. As a pastor he had few superiors; as a sermonizer he excelled; as a preacher he was orthodox, evangelistic, clear, and convincing. He drew largely from history, with which he was more than ordinarily familiar, the illustrations of the truths he preached. His suffering for the last six months was most intense, but amid it all he was patient, hopeful, and even cheerful. His funeral services were held in the Methodist Episcopal church of Pemberton. He was buried in the cemetery adjoining the church, where, with several of his brethren of New Jersey Conference, he awaits the resurrection.

South Kansas Conference.

Paris P. H. Monroe was born in Hammondsburg, Ia., March 8, 1867, and died in Council Grove, Kan., April 17, 1900. He was converted and joined the Church when a mere boy. He was licensed as a local preacher in October, 1891, entered the South Kansas Conference on trial in the spring of 1894, and was appointed to Strawn Charge, where for four years he was abundant in labors. He married Miss Lavinia Nichols in 1894, while pastor at Strawn. To this union were born four children, all of whom, with their mother, survive him. His second and last charge was Grace Church, Emporia. Filled with holy zeal and love, he undertook and accomplished the hardest tasks. His determination and strength of character caused his presiding elder to say of him: "If the gates are closed against him, he picks them up and carries them away with him." He was ordained deacon at Baldwin in 1896, and elder in 1898. While serving Grace Church his health failing, in 1900, he was granted a supernumerary relation by the Conference. He went to Las Vegas, N. Mex., hoping to recuperate, but soon returned and died at his father's home. Conscious that his hour was come, he called the family to his bedside, bade them good-bye, offered prayer, and gently passed to his eternal reward. He was an efficient preacher, a faithful pastor, and true to all the interests of the Church. The world has lost a helper, the Church a faithful worker, and the bereaved family a loving husband and father. "Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord."

John Wesley Mackenzie was born December 11, 1852, and died in Howard, Kan., September 16, 1900. His chosen lifework was teaching. He rose from the humble district school to an honorable position in the high school in Eureka, Kan. At the age of twenty-seven he married Miss Orrie B. Johns, who was a helpmeet for both worlds. After eight brief years of wedded bliss her consistent Christian life was crowned by a triumphant death. He married his second wife, Miss Donelda Murray, in 1890. This proved to be a happy union of hand, heart, and work. His strong personality was clearly marked in his mental processes. He not only had to feel but see his way through all problems. He could only reach solid foundation by logical methods, hence for many years he lived in the cold barrenness of unbelief. He was an honest doubter. All in vain seemed the training he had received in a godly home, the instructions of Christian professors in schools, and the example and triumphant death of a Christian wife. But that death was a rude shock to his mental doubt. The ever-recurring thought of God and immortality disturbed him. These and other means were used by the Holy Spirit to lead him to repentance and the surrender of himself to God. Soon a distinct call came to larger ministry as Christ's ambassador. He was admitted on trial in March, 1890, in the South Kansas Conference. He soon took high ground as a thinker and preacher. He had special aptitude in dealing with doubters. God gave him many souls as seals to his ministry. His death was sudden, and while his family and a large number of friends mourn his departure a rainbow spans the cloud.

William B. Poinsett was born in Burlington, N. J., January 1, 1837, and died in Kansas City, Kan., June 5, 1900. His father died when he was about two years of age, and later he was bound as an apprentice to learn the trade of a blacksmith. Having completed his apprenticeship, he moved to Sugar Grove, Ind., where, on May 26, 1861, he married Miss Elizabeth Kendall. A short time before his marriage he enlisted in the Fifteenth Regiment of Indiana Infantry. He served to the close of the war. In 1869 he located in Crawford County, Kan. He was converted in the winter of 1869, joined the Church, and was soon after licensed as a local preacher. He joined the South Kansas Conference in 1875, and was ordained deacon in 1877, and elder in 1879. He filled the following appointments: Timber Hill, South Parsons, La Bette, Mound City, Blue Mound, Melvern, and Quenemo. He served for four years as chaplain of the State prison at Lansing, Kan. A widow and five children survive him. He was a devoted husband and father, an ardent patriot, and a plain, practical preacher. He was an enthusiastic worker in the temperance cause, and did much to secure the adoption of the prohibitory amendment in Kansas. His last sickness was of the most painful character, but the effect of it was an increased love for his Saviour, and he left the assurance that all was well.

Allen Buckner was born in Clark County, Ill., October 8, 1830, and died in West Union, Ia., November 9, 1900. He spent his boyhood in the log cabin home of those early pioneer days. He got what education he had from a short attendance on a subscription school. At the age of ten years he was converted. When quite a young man he was licensed to exhort. In 1852 he married Emily Hungerford, and in the following year was admitted to the Illinois Conference. His first year was signally blessed of God, and he was able to report four hundred conversions at the Conference session. In 1854 he was bereaved of his wife, and in the following year he married Miss Miranda E. Waller. At the breaking out of the war he entered the service of the Union Army as first lieutenant in the Twenty-fifth Illinois Infantry, and soon rose to the rank of captain, having done gallant service at the battle of Pea Ridge. After the battle of Shiloh he resigned and went home, and at his own expense began recruiting soldiers for the Seventy-ninth Regiment of Illinois Volunteer Infantry. The regiment was mustered in on August 28, 1862. He was unanimously elected major. The regiment was ordered to the front at once, and was in the midst of severe fighting. In the battle of Murfreesboro the colonel of the Seventy-ninth Regiment was killed early in the engagement and Allen Buckner was at once put in command and afterward commissioned colonel, which office he held to the war's close. He was shot through the body at the battle of Rocky Face Ridge, and his life was despaired of, but after six months' furlough he returned to his regiment and commanded it until final muster out. After the war he resumed the work of the ministry in the Illinois Conference, where he was twice presiding elder. In 1871 he was transferred to Kansas and stationed at Fort Scott. He spent many years of hard work in establishing our Church in this great commonwealth. The Church recognized him as a great leader and honored him. Three times he was presiding elder, once a member of the General Conference; for years a trustee of Baker University and also its financial agent several years. He was honored politically, having served one term as chaplain of the House of Representatives of Kansas and once as chaplain of the Senate. He was a great student of the Bible. He thought and spoke and prayed and preached in the language of the holy book. He was a superannuated member of the South Kansas Conference, and was greatly beloved by his brethren. He died in great peace and in full hope of a blissful immortality. His funeral was held in our church at Baldwin, Kan.

South America Conference.

Ramon Blanco was born in Finisterra, Galicia, Spain, July 8, 1853, and died in Buenos Ayres, Argentina, January 6, 1901. At the age of fifteen he left his native land for Argentina. When twenty-one years of age he entered the army and served first in the regular service and afterward as federal police. He was converted in 1878. Called immediately to preach, and especially to the poor and neglected classes, he gathered these in every available place, and taught, preached, and sold Bibles almost from the day of his conversion. He taught in order that those who came under his care might be able to read the Bible for themselves—a most necessary work in a land where the national Church keeps the people in ignorance and forbids the word of God. Eminently qualified for the work of teaching, he, with the aid of a consecrated layman, Frederick Fletcher, organized and maintained a vast "ragged school," which included an industrial school, as well as instruction in the common branches; and from the children gathered from the streets into the school of the Paseo de Julio many became prominent and useful members of the Church. With the aid of an unconverted Jew he succeeded in founding the present official organ of the South America Conference, El Estandarte. In the awful plague of cholera which swept the city of Buenos Ayres in 1886 he accomplished far more than the physicians appointed to care for the district in which the school lay. The people, though they refused the remedies of the doctors through fear of being poisoned, gladly took the same from Blanco. He was received into the South America Mission on trial in 1889. As a preacher and pastor he was efficient, and he was beloved by the poor and needy. His death was caused by a collision with a wagon, while he was hastening over the vast district under his care, on his bicycle, which he had recently begun to use in order to economize his time. During the last two years of his life he inaugurated and maintained the practice of holding open-air meetings in one of the plazas of the city. This work has already resulted in greatly interesting many in our work, and several clear conversions have been added to the Church from among them. His last message to his brethren was

"Les veré mas allá!" (I shall see them yonder!) We surely have every reason for believing that he at least is safely within the city of our God, His works manifold live on, though our beloved brother is invisible.

George G. Frogatt was born in Buenos Ayres, July 31, 1863. His father was a professor of great merit and standing. George became associated with his college at a very early age. He was a perfect encyclopedia, and whether speaking or writing cited authors and events with marvelous exactitude. Religion was the passion of his life. Like Samuel of old he appeared to have been dedicated to the tabernacle from his earliest infancy. In 1885 he embarked for the United States for the purpose of entering Wesleyan University, of Delaware, O. In 1887 he returned to Buenos Ayres, recommended for deacon's orders by the Delaware Quarterly Conference, and as a probationer of the New England Conference. In 1889 he was appointed assistant to Rev. Dr. J. S. Thomson, in Buenos Ayres, and the following year as assistant to Rev. E. P. Howard, of Montevideo. The year 1894 found him at Durazno, as pastor and schoolmaster. Here he organized our society, and during his ministry a fine church was erected in the township of Trinidad, a few leagues from Durazno. He was ordained deacon and elder by Bishop Newman July 3, 1893. In 1899, at his own request, he was sent to Chivilcoy, but very soon after taking up that work his health became thoroughly undermined, and in August, 1900, peritonitis set in, becoming more acute during the remaining days of his life. He died on Sunday, September 2. He "fought the good fight," and now forms one of that triumphant host which surrounds the throne of the Redeemer.

Kansas Conference.

Frederick William Meyer was born in Hanover, Germany, December 17, 1831, and died in Denver, Colo., December 31, 1900. He came in childhood to America, and settled in Missouri, where he resided nearly his entire life. He was an itinerant of the German Methodist Church. He was a patriot on the disputed ground of Missouri during the war of the rebellion. His life was frequently threatened, and he often went to his appointments through imminent danger with the heroism of a martyr, while his wife was watching and praying at home. He was presiding elder of St. Joseph District from 1868 to 1872. He was an eloquent preacher, a faithful pastor, an able administrator, and his opinions were of great weight among his brethren in the ministry. His wife and three sons survive him. His end was calm and peaceful.

James Shaw was born in Greene County, N. Y., November 30, 1808, and died in his home in Atchison, Kan., September 22, 1900. He married Caroline Curtis in 1827. He was converted in Ohio in 1828, and licensed to preach in Norwalk, O., in 1836. He was once a delegate to the General Conference. In 1853 he moved to Kansas. In May of that year he preached the first Methodist sermon that was ever preached in Atchison. He organized a class and supplied it through the year, and the following spring was transferred to the Kansas Conference. In 1863 he was commissioned chaplain of the Ninth Regiment of Kansas Volunteers, but for some reason thought best to remain at his work in Kansas, in whose early history he was deeply concerned. As a preacher he was ardent and forceful. He was greatly beloved and esteemed by all who knew him for his work's sake. As a brother minister he was gracious, helpful, and inspiring; as a servant of God humble, hopeful, and faithful. He bore his sufferings with Christlike patience. His remains were laid by kind hands beside the resting place of his wife in the cemetery at Atchison.

John Milton Sullivan was born in Fayetteville, O., December 5, 1827, and departed this life in Baldwin, Kan., July 14, 1900. He was converted and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church at the age of nineteen. He responded to the second call for volunteers in the Mexican War, and served to the close of hostilities. He united with the Cincinnati Conference in 1853, and was ordained a deacon in 1855, and an elder in 1857. His appointments were: Lena, Manchester, Decatur, Goshen, Georgetown, and Amelia. After his transfer to the Kansas Conference he served the following charges: Manhattan, Waterville, Holton, and Leavenworth. He served one year as financial agent of Baker University. For two years he served as chaplain of the House of Representatives of Kansas, and was a trustee of Baker University for about thirty years. In 1862, just after the battle of Shiloh, he enlisted and was appointed chaplain of the Seventieth Ohio Volunteers, and served till July, 1864, when he resigned. He married Lucy M. Sweet July 21, 1853. Eight children were the fruits of this union, four of whom, with their mother, survive. As a preacher he was spiritual and scriptural, and his ministry was blessed with many conversions. While chaplain of the Seventieth Ohio marked revivals attended his ministry among the soldiers. He was an ardent patriot, as his services in two wars abundantly testify. He rejoiced in a conscious salvation to the last, and when delivering his farewell message to his family declared his bright hopes of immortality. His death was triumphant. His body rests in Baldwin cemetery.

Northwest Kansas Conference.

Eli Stephenson Arrington was born in Ray County, Tenn., June 28, 1824, and died in Wichita, Kan., February 7, 1901. He was converted in 1837 and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church. He located in Greene County, Mo., in 1839, remaining there until 1847, when he removed to Wapello County, Ia. In May, 1855, he came to Fort Scott, Kan., and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. In 1856 he was licensed to preach and admitted to the Kansas Conference. He was ordained deacon at the close of the second year and elder at the close of the fourth year. At the beginning of the war he changed his relations and was admitted in full connection to the Kansas Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, serving the following charges: Hiawatha, Stranger, Shawnee, Reno, Perry, Togamoxie, Eaton, and Fairmount. He afterward joined the Northwest Kansas Conference and served the following charges there: Pleasant Plain, Stockton, Long Island, Kirwin Circuit, and Cedarville. Owing to failing health he was superannuated in 1888 and resided in Kirwin. In November, 1899, he moved to Wichita and resided there until his decease. He was one of the pioneer preachers of Kansas, and was there during some of the most stirring times of Kansas early history. He leaves a wife and eight children to mourn their loss. His remains were laid to rest in Maplewood Cemetery.

Edmond Rex Zimmerman was born near Schaefferstown, Pa., December 26, 1827, and died in Jewell City, Kan., July 8, 1900. He graduated from Marshall College, Mercersburg, Pa., and was admitted to the bar in 1849, and engaged in the practice of his profession. Later he settled in Portland, Ore., where, in 1867, he was converted to God and dedicated his life to the service of his Master. He entered Boston School of Theology, from which he graduated in 1875, serving the same year as a supply on Cutler and Whiting Circuit, East Maine Conference. Returning to Kansas, he was appointed in 1876 to the Waterville Circuit, Kansas Conference, and was admitted on trial to that Conference in the spring of 1877. At the division of the Conference in 1882 he became a member of the Northwest Kansas Conference and remained a member thereof till his decease. He was a consecrated, zealous minister of the Gospel. He was cheerful, accepting the work assigned him without a murmur, rejoicing that he was counted worthy to suffer in the cause of the Master. His was truly "a life hid with Christ in God." He was one of the organizers of the Northwest Kansas Conference and did eleven years of effective work before he was superannuated. He was a scholar without pedantry, a Christian without ostentation, and a preacher without clerical display. May 18, 1888, he was united in marriage with Mrs. Susan C. Willard, who survives. His last charge was Warwick, in 1895, where his health failed. He moved to Jewell City, where he and his consecrated wife were a blessing to the Church and city. As a superannuate he was abundant in labors, a support of and friend to the pastors. He enjoys a well-earned rest.

New England Southern Conf.

Robert Clark was born in Landgrove, Vt., September 13, 1831, and died in Pawtucket, R. I., January 25, 1901. He was the son of the late G. W. H. Clark, a prominent member of the New Hampshire Conference and originally a member of the Vermont Conference before the separation. He was but ten years of age when he publicly confessed saving faith in Christ, and at the age of seventeen was baptized and received into full membership in the Methodist Episcopal Church. He entered Wesleyan University in his twenty-third year, from which he was graduated in the class of '57. Among the members of his class still living is our beloved New England bishop, Willard F. Mallalieu. At first there came to him the ambition to devote himself to the profession of teaching. In the providence of God, however, just before graduating at Wesleyan in August, 1857, he felt inclined to ask for a license to preach. On graduating he was immediately elected to the principalship of the academy at Springfield, Vt. Through the leadings of the Spirit of God he came to the place where he must consecrate himself to the work of an itinerant minister, and at Fall River in 1859 he was admitted to the New England Southern Conference and stationed at Plymouth. In 1861 he was ordained a deacon, and an elder in 1863. He had a deep conviction of duty in entering the ministry. This led him to adopt rules for his guidance and to increase his efficiency. He was a careful and methodical sermonizer. His sermons were all written in full and delivered with the manuscript in sight. He regretted the necessity, but thought that he did better work with the manuscript than he could do without that help. From the beginning he was a fearless preacher, and yet not inviting controversy. Some of his sermons during and at the close of the civil war are of historic interest. In these latter days he held pungent convictions on the use of tobacco and liquor, and with great intensity he preached repeatedly on temperance. While positive, he was never offensive. His convictions were never so shabby when disclosed as to need apology; nor, on the other hand, were they so well dressed as to appear out for parade. He was a success in the ministry. From first to last he left his churches better than he found them. He had a special gift as a financier also, which served to greatly strengthen the churches. His married life was beautiful. He was married to Miss Julia E. Crockett, in Middletown, Conn., July 29, 1859. They had no children, and much of his wife's life was that of an invalid. It was on her account he finally settled in Pawtucket, R. I. His end was peaceful. The double funeral of Brother Clark and his wife occurred in the First Church, Pawtucket, January 28, 1901. C. A. Stenhouse, pastor, had charge of the services at the house, and at the church Dr. Bass, presiding elder, took charge, and was assisted by a very large number of ministers. The interment took place at St. Albans, Vt.

William V. Morrison was born in West Middlesex, Pa., January 23, 1830, and died August 23, 1900. His early religious training was of the best. Religious convictions were among his earliest recollections, and from childhood he had an impression that he must become a preacher. While in college, at a camp meeting near Meadville, God employed the rapturous testimony of an ignorant fugitive slave woman to bring him to submission and peace. He had already been received into the Church at Mercer, Pa. In the following year he was licensed to exhort, and in October, 1854, received license as a local preacher in Meadville. In 1857 he was received on trial in Providence Conference, and two years later was admitted into full connection. His ministry was spent entirely in this Conference, and included pastorates in Millville, Middletown, North Easton, Sandwich, Holmes Hole, Wellfleet, East Weymouth, Stafford Springs, Central Church, Norwich; Bristol, and Hope Street and Harrison Avenue, Providence. In 1874 he was appointed to the presiding eldership of Fall River District, and in 1883 to that of New Bedford District. He served each of these districts for the full term of four years. For twelve successive years, beginning in 1874, he was president of the Martha's Vineyard Camp Meeting Association, and for the last four of these years was also president of the Yarmouth Camp Meeting Association. For several years of his later life he was the agent and treasurer of the association at Martha's Vineyard. In 1884 he was a delegate to the General Conference, and for the ensuing quadrennium represented the First District in the General Missionary Committee. In 1887 he took a supernumerary relation, in which he continued until 1900, with the exception of a single year. At the last Conference he was returned effective, and was appointed financial secretary of Mallalieu Seminary. He entered the ministry with a piety that was simple and genuine. His own experience being clear and definite, it was his aim to bring others to a like precious faith. This purpose determined his characteristics as a preacher. He accounted the Gospel of Christ as the power of God unto salvation, and boldly proclaimed it as such. He possessed business abilities of an exceptionally high order, and was peculiarly qualified for administrative and executive duties. The same qualities made him a superior executive of the camp meeting associations over which he presided. On April 5, 1856, he was married to Mary P. Fusselman, of Warren, O., who, with their two sons—Dr. William F. and Dr. Albert L., both of Providence, R. I.—survives.

Central Pennsylvania Conference.

Martin Luther Smyser was born near York, Pa., October 12, 1841, and died in Altoona, Pa., October 28, 1900. He was converted at the age of eighteen, and united with the Monument Street Methodist Episcopal Church, Baltimore. In 1862 he was appointed junior pastor on the Hampstead Charge, East Baltimore Conference, and in March, 1863, was admitted on trial in that Conference. His appointments therein were: Hampstead, Westminster, Frederick Circuit, and Great Falls. In the rearrangement of Conference boundaries he became a member of the Baltimore Conference, and was stationed at Havre de Grace. In 1872 he was transferred to the Central Pennsylvania Conference. His appointments were: Bellefonte, Phillipsburg, Bloomsburg, Berwick, Danville District, Chambersburg, Bedford, Curwensville, Conference Book Room, Lewiston, Mulberry Street, Williamsport; First Church, Shamokin, Altoona District. He was ordained deacon in 1865, and elder in 1867. In 1865 he married Miss Lydia A. Hoffman. Four children were born to them, three of whom, together with their mother, survive.

He was largely endowed with native ability, and well equipped by close study for his work. He was evangelistic in the best sense, and extensive revivals characterized his pastorates. As a pastor he was watchful and attentive to the people under his charge. To the aged he was companionable, and always kept close to the young. Early in the year 1900 he conceived a plan for holding a Pennsylvania State Convention of the Methodist Episcopal Church. The convention was held in Grace Church, Harrisburg, October 22–25. He was chosen secretary of the body. The care and labor incident to the convention were exacting to his great weariness. He returned to his home on the day succeeding the adjournment, and the day following went to Altoona, where he participated in special services in the Eighth Avenue Church of that city, when Bishop Joyce preached. He was then seriously ill. Medical advice was taken, and his condition was much improved. At ten o'clock in the evening he passed into a quiet sleep, and half an hour later had gone to his reward. A funeral service at Altoona was conducted by Bishop Joyce. Thence the remains were conveyed to Bellefonte, where a memorial service, attended by forty of his ministerial brethren, was held. Interment was made at York, his birthplace. There his body awaits the resurrection of the just.

James H. McCord died at Muncy, Pa., November 3, 1900. He was converted in his boyhood, and in 1858 was admitted on trial in the East Baltimore Conference. His appointments were: Hancock, Md.; Mercersburg, Pa.; Frederick City, Md.; Huntington Avenue, Baltimore; East Baltimore, and Danville, Pa, After the organization of the Central Pennsylvania Conference his appointments were: Montour Chapel, Danville; Clearfield, Tyrone, Waynesboro, Gettysburg, Duncannon, New Cumberland, Hanover and New Oxford, Hollidaysburg, Chestnut Avenue, Altoona; Asbury, Altoona; Mount Holly, and Muncy. His wife was the third daughter of Judge W. C. Foley, of Clearfield, Pa. He had marked natural qualifications for the ministry. His acquirements were of no mean order. He had a profound knowledge of theology, and was preeminent in revival work. Hundreds below recognize him as their father in the Gospel, while a multitude were ready to greet him as he entered the Church above. His testimony during his last illness was, "Not on anything that I have done do I rest my hope of the future, but on the atoning blood of our Lord Jesus Christ." His remains were conveyed to Lewistown, where, after memorial services, they were laid in the Methodist Episcopal Cemetery to rest until the morning of the resurrection.

Henry Clay Whiting was born in Speedsville, N. Y., March 27, 1845, and died in Carlisle, Pa., February 1, 1901. He graduated at Union College in 1867, and was immediately chosen principal of the academy at Prattsburg, N. Y. He was principal of Union School, Schenectady, in 1868–70, after which he was elected assistant professor at Drew Seminary, where he pursued and completed the seminary course, graduating with the class of '73. He was elected first vice principal and professor of Latin of Hackettstown Collegiate Institute in 1874, and served in this capacity for four years, when he was called to occupy a like position in Pennington Seminary. At the close of one year's service he was elected, in 1878, professor of Latin in Dickinson College, in which position he remained until his decease. In 1899 he was granted leave of absence by the authorities for one year, at the end of which time he resigned. On the morning of February 1, 1901, he was found in bed, having come to his end without any premonitory symptoms. He was the affable associate, always considerate, never overbearing, and was universally beloved. He was a man of large natural endowments and ripe scholarship. His contributions to literature were frequent and meritorious. He was united in marriage in 1867 with Miss Mary L. Freeman, of Schenectady, who, together with four children, survives. His remains were laid to rest in the cemetery at Carlisle.

Maine Conference.

Alanson S. Staples was born in Bowery Beach, Me., in 1858, and died in Welchville, Me., April 7, 1901, aged forty-three years. In early life he was ambitious to secure an education, and, notwithstanding he had for years serious trouble with his eyes, he made excellent progress. When he felt his call to the ministry he spent some time in the Boston School of Theology. For several years he had been a probationer in the Maine Conference, but had not been able to pass in his studies on account of the trouble with his eyes. He filled the following appointments: West Kennebunk, Fryeburg and Stowe, Industry and Starks, Mount Vernon and Vienna, Oxford and Welchville. He was a good preacher, was very pleasant in his intercourse with the people, and made strong friends wherever he labored. Probably his last pastorate was the most successful of his ministry. His labors were blessed with a gracious revival and substantial additions to the Church membership. He was twice married. His second wife was Miss Eldora Lovell, of Brockton, Mass. He was about his work until the day before he died. On Sunday, March 31, he spoke in his sermon in an impressive way of the attractions of heaven. On Saturday afternoon, April 6, he was seized with convulsions, and early on Easter morning he was summoned to come up higher. His wife and two children survive him. The funeral service was held in Welchville and in Brockton, where interment was made.

Virginia Conference.

George P. Hannah was born on the headwaters of the Elk River, Pocahontas County, W. Va., August 11, 1857, and died April 26, 1900. He was converted early in life, and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church. He was licensed to preach in October, 1882, and joined the Virginia Conference in 1887. His appointments were: Lewisburg, Pocahontas, Pendleton and Circleville, Augusta, Rich Patch, and Forest Hill. He was united in marriage with Miss Leah M. Grimes July 10, 1879, who, together with five children, survives him. With him the promulgation of the Gospel of Christ was paramount to every other consideration. He was an earnest and faithful minister, and his "works do follow him."

Vermont Conference.

William C. Robinson was born in Rustletown, Province of Quebec, June 24, 1831, and died in Milton, Vt., March 1, 1901. When about twenty-two years old he was converted to God. Feeling his call to the work of the ministry, he went to Evanston, Ill., and entered the theological school of that town. But while there not only were his studies interrupted, but his health was impaired by typhoid fever, and the ill effects of that sickness remained with him until death. In 1858 he was united in marriage with Miss Maria E. Eldred, of Sheldon, who survives him. In 1859 he was admitted as a probationer in the Troy Conference, and was stationed in that year at Hyde Park and Morristown, Vt. In 1861 he was elected and ordained a deacon. From that time until 1864 he served in Waterbury Center and Starksboro. In the year just mentioned, at St. Johnsbury, he was elected an elder. After this he was stationed in Benson, Essex, Enosburg, St. Albans Bay, Alburg. He was transferred to the New Hampshire Conference in 1870, and was appointed to North Haverhill. In 1872 he was readmitted to the Vermont Conference, and appointed to Newport, and afterward his fields of labor were: Holland and Morgan, West Concord, Guildhall, Lunenburg, Peacham, Hardwick, Sheldon, West Berkshire, and Milton. He took a supernumerary relation in 1892, and served Milton Charge for that year. In 1893 and until his departure he was a superannuate. His strength was his weakness. He was of a critical mind. He could make and did make nice distinctions in thought and word, and by his expressions and remarks might be understood by some. Yet when he was met openly, in a spirit of honesty and fairness, by good reason on God's words, he in childlike simplicity gave way. And while he could be harsh, he was very often remarkably tender. His death was sudden, but he was ready "to depart and be with Christ."

William R. Puffer was born in Richford, Vt., November 29, 1828, and died in the same town July 29, 1900. His early life was a struggle with poverty. He was converted when fourteen years of age, and in 1852 began to preach. His first appointment was Isle La Motte. At this time he was a local preacher. In the spring of 1853 he was received as a probationer in the Troy Conference, and was a member of that Conference until Northwestern Vermont was transferred to the Vermont Conference, in 1860. During the remainder of his life he was a member of the Vermont Conference. His appointments were as follows: Isle La Motte, Colchester, Essex and Underhill, Highgate, Cambridge, Stowe, Sheldon, Swanton, Burlington, Waterbury Center, West Enosburg, Franklin, Cambridge, Northfield, presiding elder of St. Johnsbury District, Montgomery, Highgate again, West Berkshire, Morrisville, and West Enosburg again. It should be noticed that three of these charges he served for a second time. He was in the ministry forty-eight years—one year as a supply, and forty-seven years as a member of Conference. The last heavy work that he did was at Morrisville. During this pastorate a church building was erected, which was named "Puffer Memorial Church." During the last ten years he made Richford his home. He was married, in 1853, to Miss Orlana L. Godfrey, of Chelsea, Vt., who died in 1858. In 1859 he was married to Miss Esther A. Kinsley, of Fletcher, who survives him. By the second marriage there were four children, one of whom is W. M. Puffer, of the Michigan Conference. On the last day of his life he said: "I am in the boat sailing over. They are coming for me over the hills of heaven. I have had a good many happy moments, but none happier than these." He was a good man. His religious life was free from ostentation, but his convictions of duty were firm. In 1876 he was elected to the General Conference. As an administrator he exercised good judgment. As a preacher he had more than ordinary ability. As a pastor he was loving and kind. His memory will long be cherished by those who knew him best. His body was interred in the new cemetery in Richford.

Alonzo Hitchcock was born in Waitsfield, Vt., March 27, 1814, and died in Northfield, Vt., September 13, 1900. He was the oldest member of the Vermont Conference, and the last remaining preacher who came into it at its organization in 1844. He joined the old New Hampshire in 1843, which then included all eastern Vermont, and took his first appointment at Albany and South Albany. He was for sixteen consecutive years thereafter in the regular work; then, after doing supply work as a superannuated preacher for three years, he was made effective, and had regular appointments for the next six years. From 1863 to 1884 he sustained the supernumerary relation, acting as agent for the seminary two years, and for the Home for Destitute Children one year, and doing supply work some three years. Since 1884 he has been on the list of superannuates. He was the last of the itinerants on horseback. His was a soul that hated wrong and evil and folly, and it was impossible for him to remain serene while he saw these prevailing. In the fearful period of our civil war he cherished a very cordial hatred for all sympathizers with the rebellion. On national occasions in those days his utterances had no uncertain sound, and many a fool felt the rod he wielded so vigorously. He married, first, in 1839, Miss Emily Clark, by whom he had four children. His early life was greatly shadowed by sore family sorrows. His wife and three children were buried in 1851, and only one daughter was left to him. January 9, 1852, he married Mrs. Louvia Walker Burgess, with whom he lived about forty-nine years, and who survives him. In all the many years of his retirement he had been a loyal supporter of his chosen Church, and ever jealous of the purity and progress of Methodism. He loved the old ways and the old-time positiveness in Christian faith and personal experience. He loved truth and righteousness, and has beyond doubt found the realm where they are forever dominant. The end with him came somewhat suddenly, and his mental vision was not at all times clear, but the shadows are past and eternal day for him has dawned.

Thomas Trevillian was born in England October 22, 1828, and died in his home in Lebanon, N. H., November 30, 1900. He was converted in 1856, and united with the Primitive Methodist Church. For several years he served as circuit steward and local preacher before coming to this country. In his work as local preacher he occupied a large field, and sometimes walked fourteen miles on Sunday to fill an appointment. On coming to the United States, in 1867, he immediately entered upon the work of the ministry, uniting with the Methodist Episcopal Church in Vermont. He supplied as a local preacher Pike Hilt and Waits River, Corinth Corner, Plainfield, West Burke, and South Royalton. He joined the Vermont Conference in 1874, and served at Barnard and East Barnard, South Londonderry, Middlesex, Highgate, Rochester, Gaysville and Bethel Lympus, St. Johnsbury Center, Newbury, Waits River, Topsham and East Orange, supernumerary. When he retired from the active work of the ministry he made his home at Lebanon, N. H. He was clear and positive in his religious experience. As a preacher he was thoroughly evangelical, interesting, and profitable; as a pastor he was diligent and faithful. Quite extensive revivals occurred during his ministry at Corinth and at Barnard. He was married in 1855 to Miss Elizabeth Trevillian, who, with three children, survive him. His last illness was brief but painful. He passed away peacefully like one going to sleep, leaving a testimony of his unfailing trust in Jesus as a precious, loving Saviour.

St. Louis Conference.

Albert Jump was born near Milford, Del., December 16, 1839, and died in Holden, Mo., January 5, 1901. His parents were both Methodists, and his father for several years prior to his death was a local preacher. The loss of his father by death when he was yet a lad sadly interfered with his educational advantages. From the age of thirteen to seventeen he had no living teacher and no school privilege. After this he attended a seminary a few terms, taught a few years, and spent a year in Dickinson College in special studies. In 1862 he was converted. The year following, two weeks after his reception into full membership in the Church, he was licensed to preach. For the next twelve years he was closely engaged in teaching and preaching, mostly in preaching, at various charges within the Philadelphia and Baltimore Conferences. He was married March 7, 1867, to Miss Harriet A. Murray, daughter of Rev. James Murray, of the Virginia Conference. He was admitted to the St. Louis Conference on trial 1877, received to full membership and ordained deacon in 1879, and ordained elder in 1881. His appointments were: Perryville, Carondelet, St. Luke's, St. Louis; Central, St. Louis; North Springfield, Ohio Street, Sedalia; Lebanon, Montgomery Street, Sedalia; Independence, and Holden. His illness was of short duration, but he gave good evidence of his readiness to depart and be with Christ. He was genial socially, and of strong and lasting friendship. His habits of body and mind were active, his quick mental perceptions grasping the thought before it was expressed. As a preacher he was doctrinal, and yet eminently practical, appealing rather to the conscience than to the emotions. His sermons were sound, carefully prepared, and delivered with seriousness and force. He was at his best as a pastor. He was conscientious, faithful, successful, and won a warm esteem from his people.

James Hannibal Vaughan was born in Mecklinburg County, Va., June 11, 1826, and died in St. Clair County, Mo., April 15, 1900. He was baptized in his sixteenth year. In November, 1851, he married Martha E. Reser. To them ten children were born, five of whom, with their mother, are still living. He was converted in his twenty-seventh year, and was received into the Methodist Episcopal Church. On September 15, 1858, he was licensed to preach and put in charge of the Dry Wood Mission, or Stockton Circuit, as it was afterward named. This mission included in its territory all of Cedar County and a part of St. Clair, Bates, Vernon, and Dade Counties. In March, 1859, he was received on trial by the Missouri and Arkansas Conference. He was ordained deacon March 10, 1861, and elder March 6, 1864. His appointments were as follows: Carthage and Mount Vernon Mission, Mount Vernon; Sac River Mission, Leesville and Prairie City, Buffalo, Linn and Sugar Creek. A throat trouble that began in the early part of his ministry became so serious that he was compelled to discontinue the active work. He superannuated in the spring of 1866 and moved to his farm in St. Clair County, where he died. When the St. Louis Conference was organized he, being within the bounds of that Conference, became a member and continued his superannuated relation until his death. He continued to preach whenever able to do so, and perhaps did his most effective ministerial work during his superannuation. He was a plain, logical, and forceful preacher. He was inclined to be of a combative nature, yet was humble, devout, and spiritual. He was regarded very radical on the temperance question. Few persons ever questioned the purity of his intentions, and almost everyone who became well acquainted with him felt the influence of his Christian life and example. During 1877 he became afflicted with paralysis. In two or three years he was compelled to entirely quit public speaking. For more than a year he was helpless. Much of the time he was a great sufferer. He often expressed a desire to depart and be with Christ, yet he would say, "The Lord's will be done." A few months before his death he said to his pastor and others, "If I should ever be permitted to preach again, I would emphasize two things more than I ever did, and they are these: a living Christ and an ever-present Holy Ghost."

James Bowman Daniel, son of Rev. Littleton and Sarah Daniel, was born near Mount Vernon, Ill., April 21, 1835, and died in Sedalia, Mo., August 28, 1900. He was converted September 15, 1852, and at the same place, a few days later, was received into the Methodist Episcopal Church; was licensed to exhort December 10, 1852, and to preach March 3, 1866, and soon after came to Missouri and supplied a circuit for that year. He was admitted into the Missouri and Arkansas Conference as a probationer March 8, 1867. At the division of the Conference in 1868 he came into the St. Louis Conference. He was received into full connection in the Conference and ordained deacon March 14, 1869, and elder March 12, 1871. He served the following charges in the order named: Bloomfield, Marble Hill, Commerce, Patterson, Perryville, Farmington, Neosho, Rolla, Joplin, Smithton, Tipton, Knobnoster, Dresden, Montrose, Windsor, Malta Bend, Pilot Grove, Eldorado Springs, and Deepwater. In March, 1898, at the Conference in Springfield, he superannuated and retained this relation till his death. He labored for nineteen consecutive years on the Sedalia District, and for the same length of time was chairman of the Conference Board of Stewards. On November 10, 1858, he married Miss Sarah E. Harold, of Mount Vernon, Ill. She stood with him in all the trials and triumphs in his ministry for nearly twenty years. In 1881 he was united in marriage with Miss Sadie Blandin, of Smithton, Mo., who survives him. It was with reluctance that he gave up the active ministry, which he loved so well, but when the time had fully come he yielded cheerfully to the Lord's will. During all his long illness and suffering he was patient and uncomplaining to the end. His body was laid to rest by the side of his first wife and his two infant children in the cemetery at Smithton, Mo. His religious experience was clearly positive and satisfactory to himself and convincing to others. With resignation and with no attempt to make prominent his sacrifices he spent his ministry in self-denying service. He was a man of unswerving integrity and deeply devoted to the work of the ministry, and though deeply afflicted for several years before his departure, yet he was all the time patient and cheerful, believing in God and trusting in the merits of Christ Jesus his Lord.

North Indiana Conference.

John Wesley Lewellen was born in Randolph County, Ind., near the place now called Parker City, September 8, 1845, and died near Wheeling, Ind., June 21, 1900. His early life, until sixteen years of age, was spent on a farm, during the summer months, and attending district school in the winter. He enlisted in the service of his country in the autumn of 1864, serving to the close of the war. He pursued a special course of instruction in Indiana Asbury University, now known as De Pauw University. He was converted in his seventeenth year, licensed to preach in his twenty-third year, and admitted to the North Indiana Conference in 1871. He served the following charges: Elwood, Hartford City, Jonesbore, Perrysburg, La Gro, Bourbon. He was given the supernumerary relation in 1884. He was married in March, 1874, to Miss Minerva A. Watson. To them were born five children, three sons and two daughters. The youngest, a daughter, died in early childhood. The widow and four children survive.

H. A. Davis was born near Greentown, Ind., April 9, 1855, and died in Marshall, Tex., April 20, 1900. He was married to Ella Fifer September 18, 1878. He became a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church in 1884, although not converted until 1885. He was licensed to preach in 1885, and was received on trial in the North Indiana Conference in April, 1887. He was ordained deacon in 1889, and an elder in 1891. He served the following charges: Jolietville, New Waverly, Wheatland Street, Logansport; Redkey, Alexandria, First Church, Marion. On account of failing health he went to El Paso, Tex., where he suffered a severe attack of la grippe, which greatly aggravated his disease. Despairing of any benefit from change of climate, he started home April 13, 1900. He grew rapidly worse, and was compelled to leave the train at Marshall, Tex. There the Methodist Church people provided him with the best possible medical care and hotel accommodations. His wife was summoned to his side and arrived some two hours before he died. His dying testimony is this: "The Gospel I have preached to others has not failed me." The remains were brought to Marion, Ind., where short services were conducted, after which they were taken to Greentown, Ind., where the funeral services were conducted by the pastor, J. F. Radcliffe. The interment was made in the cemetery in Greentown.

Liberia Conference.

JOSEPH W. BONNER was born in Macon, Ga. He emigrated to Liberia with his father, mother, and wife, and lived in Sinoe County. He was not a Christian when he came to Liberia. He was soundly converted to God while the Greenville Charge was under the pastoral care of Rev. Charles A. Pitman, and became a zealous member and faithful Christian of the Methodist Episcopal Church. In 1879 he was licensed to preach by the Quarterly Conference held in Greenville. He was recommended by the Sinoe District Conference to the Liberia Conference for admission on trial, was received later on; having passed his examination, he was elected to deacon's orders, and was ordained by Bishop Taylor, who likewise ordained him elder at the conclusion of his Conference Studies. He was afterward appointed presiding elder of Sinoe District, and in 1900, his term having expired, he was, at his own request, granted a supernumerary relation. He was not an educated man, but was instrumental in winning many souls to Christ. He was active, ambitious, energetic, and zealous in the building up of Methodism. His end was peaceful. He has entered into eternal rest.

NOTE.—No statistics have been received from the Foochow Conference since 1899. In the columns "Numbers in Society" the latest returns from this Conference are inserted in brackets, merely to show the present membership of Methodism. Comparisons are omitted, however, since the General Minutes of the Fall Conferences for 1900 showed an increase of 581. This increment should not of course be repeated in the statistical tables. With this exception the statistical tables are complete. The following Conferences, Mission Conferences, and Mission, which have heretofore appeared in the General Minutes of the Fall Conferences, will be found in this issue of the Spring Minutes: Foochow, Hinghua, South Japan, and Central China. The Eastern Swedish Conference and the Burma Mission Conference have been organized in the past year, and are inserted in the Minutes. The Western South America Mission Conference has been organized into an Annual Conference.—EDITOR GENERAL MINUTES.

Note.—No statistics have been received from the Foochow Conference since 1899. In the columns "Numbers in Society" the latest returns from this Conference are inserted in brackets, merely to show the present membership of Methodism. Comparisons are omitted, however, since the General Minutes of the Fall Conferences for 1900 showed an increase of 581. This increment should not of course be repeated in the statistical tables. With this exception the statistical tables are complete. The following Conferences, Mission Conferences, and Mission, which have heretofore appeared in the General Minutes of the Fall Conferences, will be found in this issue of the Spring Minutes: Foochow, Hinghua, South Japan, and Central China. The Eastern Swedish Conference and the Burma Mission Conference have been organized in the past year, and are inserted in the Minutes. The Western South America Mission Conference has been organized into an Annual Conference.—Editor General Minutes.

William Anson Spencer, D.D.

Rev. William Anson Spencer, D.D., was born in Rock Island, Ill., October 6, 1840, and died in Philadelphia, Pa., September 25, 1901. As a fitting tribute to the memory of this eminent servant of God the editor of the General Minutes inserts the following minute adopted at a special meeting of the Board of Church Extension of the Methodist Episcopal Church, held at their rooms, 1026 Arch Street, Philadelphia, Pa., September 27, 1901:

Three times in its history the Board of Church Extension has been called to mourn the decease of its chief executive officer. The first time was when the Rev. Dr. S. Y. Monroe, its first Corresponding Secretary, exchanged "in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye," the mortal for the immortal life. The second time was when the Rev. Dr. Alpha J. Kynett, who in a very special sense may be said to have created the great Church benevolence whose affairs are supervised by the Board, passed within the veil after an illness of only a few hours. The third time is now present and marks the almost equally sudden departure of the Rev. Dr. William A. Spencer, who for the past sixteen years has gone in and out among us, devoting his time and talents and energies to promote the interests of the cause which is so near and dear to all our hearts.

Coming to the service of the Board in the autumn of 1885, to be the Assistant Corresponding Secretary in the place so long and ably filled by Dr. C. C. McCabe, now one of the bishops of our Church, who had been called to the service of the Missionary Society by the General Conference of 1884, Dr. Spencer found no light or easy task confronting him. He felt most keenly the responsibility which his office imposed, but entered the field with a firm resolve by the blessing of God to do all in his power to place the cause of Church Extension before the benevolence of the Church in the relation which its merits demanded. He shared with Dr. Kynett the anxieties of the office, the perplexities resulting from voluminous correspondence, the wear and fatigue of extensive travel, and the trials as well as the pleasures of Annual Conference visitations, and together they rejoiced in the steady and substantial gains which came as a reward to their faithfulness and zeal.

In 1892 the General Conference elected Dr. Spencer to the office of Corresponding Secretary. In this relation he worked coordinately with Dr. Kynett until the death of the latter, in February, 1899. From May, 1899, to the General Conference of 1900 he sustained the same relation to Dr. J. M. King, who had been chosen as the successor of Dr. Kynett. The General Conference of 1900 abolished the coordinate secretaryship, and elected Dr. Spencer Corresponding Secretary, placing upon him the full responsibility as the executive officer of the Board of Church Extension.

Dr. Spencer was a man of deep sympathy and had great love for his fellow-men. The moral and spiritual necessities of the people as he saw them stirred his soul to its profoundest depths. His appeals in behalf of the thousands of people on the frontier and in the mountain regions who were poor and without a church home were almost irresistible, and by them individuals and whole Conferences were wonderfully moved and induced to take advanced positions in regard to the great benevolent cause which he represented and whose claims he advocated.

It is appropriate, therefore, that the Board of Church Extension should record their appreciation of his personal character and valuable services. In the death of the Rev. William Anson Spencer, D.D., not only the Board of Church Extension, but the Methodist Episcopal Church, has been deprived of the services of a devout man, full of the evangelistic spirit, a faithful, energetic, and untiring officer, who spared not himself in any particular if the cause which rested upon his head and heart, and which meant so much to him in connection with the kingdom of our Lord Jesus Christ, might by his labors of self-sacrifice by any means be advanced.

We tender our deepest sympathy to his greatly bereaved wife and sons, with whom we will stand at the side of his bier, and to his beloved daughter, Clarissa, who, though denied the sad privilege of looking upon his face in the repose of death, is honored in a far-off heathen land as one who holds up the standard of the cross, the symbol of our faith and hope, both hers and ours. May the great Head of the Church, to whose image our brother aspired when he should "reach the more excellent glory," sustain these loved ones in their trial, comfort them in their sorrow, and bring them and us at the end of our pilgrimage to the land which death cannot enter and where sorrow is forever unknown.

Arthur Edwards, D.D.

Rev. Arthur Edwards, D.D., was born in Norwalk, O., November 23, 1834, and died in Chicago, March 20, 1901. When seven years old he came to Michigan to live with an uncle after whom he was named. Mr. Edwards sought to give his foster son a liberal education, and first sent him to the seminary at Albion, where he spent one year. He then went to Ohio Wesleyan University, from which institution he graduated in 1858. During the second year of his college course his uncle failed in business, and was compelled to leave him to his own resources. By determined effort and labor he succeeded. He experienced religion in 1852, and settled upon the Christian ministry as his calling.

A few weeks after his graduation he joined the Detroit Conference on probation, and was sent as second preacher to St. Clair. In 1859 he was appointed to Walnut Street City Mission, Detroit—now Simpson Church—and in 1860 to Saginaw City, and when the war opened the following spring he was appointed chaplain of the First Michigan Infantry. He served in this capacity until after the battle of Gettysburg. He was a true soldier of chivalric spirit. As a young chaplain he figured in eighteen battles, and was offered a colonel's commission. He won by his courage and fidelity the respect of the men and officers, not only of his own but other regiments. He is said to have been the most popular chaplain in the Army of the Potomac. In 1863 the Minutes record him as pastor at Trenton and Wyandotte, and in 1864 the Minutes place opposite his name "Assistant Editor of the Northwestern Christian Advocate—member of Central Church, Detroit, Quarterly Conference. In 1868 he was elected editor of the General Conference Daily Advocate, and it is said that the ability shown in this work had much to do with his election in 1872 as editor of the Northwestern Christian Advocate. He proved himself in every way adapted to this work. He served in this capacity probably longer than any other man in the history of our Church. It has been said of him, "He had the instinct of a news gatherer—his memory was excellent, his versatility unusual. In productiveness there were few who could be compared with him." He was enterprising; despised rest. "A man of untiring industry, power, ironlike endurance." He was a man of sunny nature, an excellent conversationalist, an incisive, facile writer.

His knowledge of the world and interest in Christendom made him the beloved brother and friend of all men. The Methodist Church claims him as her own, but other Churches consider him greater than any denomination. He was the helper of all. He filled many important places in the Church. In 1876 he served on the committee to revise the Church Hymnal. "No member of the committee seemed to have a finer sense of rhythm, or a clearer perception of what a hymn should be, or showed the results of a wider range of reading." He was delegate to the first Ecumenical Conference held in London in 1881. His paper upon "Status of Methodism in the Western Hemisphere" was received with great satisfaction. In 1884 he was member of the Centennial Conference in Baltimore. He was member of each session of the General Conference from 1872 to 1892, and again in 1900. He served as secretary of the Detroit Conference twelve years, and was reelected editor of the Northwestern Christian Advocate at the last session of the General Conference (1900).

He was married in 1866 to Miss Caroline Whitehead, daughter of the late Rev. Henry Whitehead. Three children were born to them. He had no fear of death, regarding it as transition from the temporal to the eternal habitation. His hope was in God, whose power and mercy could never fail. His confidence was in a Redeemer who had delivered his soul from sin and death, and had provided for his everlasting happiness in the presence of God.
